State Continues To Build Bulwark Of Domestic Infelicity

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 24.—(UP)—All was not peace and harmony in the Palo Alto home of David A. Lamson just before his wife was found slain, Deloris Roberts Sorenson, Lamson maid, allegedly told a new witness suddenly subpoenaed today.

The Lamsons "fought all the time and talked of getting a divorce," according to a story related by Mrs. S. P. Sorenson, the Roberts girl's mother-in-law.

Attorney Tells Story

As selection of a jury was nearing completion the fourth day of Lamson's trial on murder charges, a San Jose attorney who asked his name be withheld revealed Mrs. Sorenson's story. She consulted him to determine what to do, he said.

The Roberts girl, principal of a sudden wedding the day trial started, is under defense subpoena and is expected to testify to conjugal felicity in the Lamson home where mutual interest in drama, literature, music and play-writing made the marriage of Allene Thorpe and David Lamson apparently an ideal union.

The attorney said that before Mrs. Lamson's death, the former maid went to Mrs. Sorenson and asked her help to find a new position.

"She said the maid was alarmed and upset at things that had occurred in the Lamson home and told of Lamson and his wife fighting all the time and talking about divorce," the United Press informant said.

State Issues Subpoena

The mother-in-law of the girl who was expected to be a star defense witness conferred with Prosecutor Allen P. Lindsay. The subpoena for her appearance for the state followed.

The prosecution also issued two other surprise subpoenas, one for Miss Helen Vincent, neighbor of the Lamsons, and the other for Mrs. Chloe Roberts, mother of Deloris. Edwin M. Rea, chief of defense counsel, admitted he was "puzzled" by the new moves. He had expected

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 24.—(UP)—Police said today that Miss Samantha Johnson, 34, former Vancouver, Wash., resident, had confessed the accidental slaying of her roommate, Mrs. Jessie Brown, 40.

Miss Johnson allegedly said she stabbed Mrs. Brown in trying to prevent suicidal attempt.

LINDBERGH ON MOVE AGAIN

TERVAA, Faroes Islands, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Col and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh left the harbor of Tervaa at 12:25 p.m., G.M.T., today, for an unannounced destination. It was believed they would fly to the Shetland Islands, south-east of the Faroes and north of Scotland.

California Has Fearless Bear Counters

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(UP)—The department of agriculture reports that the best and most fearless bear counters in the nation live in California.

Proof of this fact, according to the department, rests in the record of the annual bear census. California national forests submitted the number of bear noses as 9961. The counters in Washington, Oregon, Montana and Alaska refused to take such risks. They turned in estimates. The more cautious counters said that in the national forests of each of the three states and territory there were between 5000 and 8000 bears.

ASK $770,000 FOR SCHOOLS OVER COUNTY

Santa Ana Wants $350,000 To Repair Damages Of March Earthquake

APPLICATIONS for aid aggregating $770,000 have been filed by schools in Orange county for reconstruction and repairs of school buildings damaged in the March earthquake, it was learned today following a conference in Los Angeles yesterday attended by Ray Adkinson, county school superintendent and Frank A. Henderson, Santa Ana school superintendent, at which Verling Kersey, state superintendent of schools and other state officials were present.

Santa Ana, it was learned, applied for $350,000 from the R. F. C. funds for rehabilitation purposes in Southern California out of the $5,000,000 fund set up today that the Santa Ana application was made contingent upon the report on condition of school buildings to be made by a state inspector who is now inspecting buildings in Santa Ana.

The conference discussed the possibility of securing additional funds under the National Recovery Act.

Schools included in the applications made for aid are Santa Ana, Newport Beach, Seal Beach, Westminster, Tustin, Garden Grove and Buena Park. Henderson pointed out that the need in Santa Ana will not be known until the survey of buildings here is completed. It is hoped that the 30 per cent which is expected to be received under the public works program will not have to be repaid, although the 70 per cent R. F. C. money will have to be repaid. Authorities expect to get definite word on the loan applications within 30 days.

INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT REACHES NEW HIGH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Industrial output in the United States during July reached its highest level in more than three years, rising to 98 per cent of the 1923-25 average, the federal reserve board reported today.

This was a sharp gain over the 91 per cent rate of activity in June and the recent low of 60 per cent in March prior to the working of the administration's recovery program. Not since May, 1930, when industrial output was 102 per cent of the 1923-25 average have goods been produced as rapidly as in July.

LIGHTNING STARTS CANYON BRUSH FIRE

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Aug. 24.—(UP)—Lightning today started a brush fire in Dark Canyon, back in the San Jacinto mountains, and a crew of fire fighters from the Vista Grande C. C. camp was rushed to the scene, the forest service announced. Another lightning fire at Long Lake was extinguished by C. C. crews yesterday after a four-hour fight.

ORANGE COUNTY SWEEPED BY FREAK ELECTRICAL STORM

NAZI-GERMANY FRONTIER IS STORM CENTER

Nazi Germany's New Nationalism Causes Alert Attitude At Border

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Nazi Germany's new nationalism caused watchfulness at three points on her frontiers today, while at Prague the Zionist world congress considered oppression of members of their race under Chancellor Adolf Hitler.

From Vienna it was reported that several battalions of the newly formed Austrian legion of Nazis, recruited from exiled Austrian Fascists, were moving in Bavaria toward the Austrian frontier.

Sarre Basin Aroused

Excitement was caused at Sarrebrücken, in the Sarre Basin, by a newspaper report that Hitler storm troops in the Rhineland had received orders to be prepared for a summons from the Sarre section. A new dispute over the Memel Lithuanian government, distrustful of the Hitler regime apparently, cancelled the agreement between the Prussian Unionist Evangelical church and the Memel directorate, on the ground that Nazification of the Evangelical church in Germany would put Memel unionists under the supervision of an alien body.

Reports from Berlin indicated that as the result of the support Austrian Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss was reported to have obtained from European radio broadcasts from Germany denouncing him might be modified.

Bitter Complaints

These broadcasts, emanating from Bavarian stations, have been the object of bitter complaint. Today it was said that instead of attacking Dollfuss, Nazi speakers in future might stress the Austrian economic situation and the idea that Nazis must be elected to power to save the country.

Nazis believed, it was said, that in the event of Dollfuss' government fell, Prince Starhemberg, organizer of Dollfuss' Heimwehr or home guard, might become head of the government and by means of a placative Germany policy, serve as a medium for Nazification of the country.

Rumors in Vienna, on the contrary, have been that Dollfuss might propose Starhemberg as regent of a kingdom in order to frustrate the Nazis.

Increases Frontier Guard

Dollfuss meantime increased strength of the frontier guard and was recruiting a force of 1,000 picked marksmen of the Heimwehr to reinforce the soldiers, police and Heimwehr already on the German border with orders to shoot to kill any suspicious persons.

The Sarre situation, made tense by recent kidnappings of Sarre residents, allegedly by Nazis, was expected to be brought before the League of Nations assembly in September, along with mistreatment of Jews and the Austrian situation.

MASTER BARBERS SUBMIT NEW CODE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Proposing price increases and regulations that would provide new employment for 1900 barbers and affect 17,400 employees, the American Master Barbers of California submitted a code to the state recovery administration today. It differed somewhat from the code suggested by the California State Association of Journeymen Barbers. A CRA hearing will be held to iron out the differences.

Empress Of Japan Prays for Son

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Empress Nagako today participated in the traditional "maternity ceremony." She expects a child in January. Emperor Hiro Hito, worried because four previous children are girls, has been observing daily religious services intended to correct the situation. Only male descendants of the royal family may ascend the throne. Prince Chichibu, the emperor's brother, is present heir-apparent.

TRAIN CRASHES OFF BRIDGE, 2 DIE, 13 HURT

Engine Smashes Into Mud Flats Of Potomac From Weakened Structure

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(UP)—A speeding Pennsylvania railroad passenger train plunged through a flood-weakened bridge near here early today. The engine and fireman were killed and 13 persons injured, two seriously.

A number of others suffered minor injuries and after receiving first aid treatment resumed their trip, leaving Washington at 7 a. m.

The engine crashed at 3:45 a. m. from a bridge into the flooded mud flats of the eastern branch of the Potomac river. A mail car turned side on the right of way beyond the bridge. A second mail car and two Pullmans toppled into the swollen stream. Five other Pullmans turned over beside the right-of-way. Only one of the 10 cars remained upright.

Ambulances brought the injured to Washington, and a relief train plucked up passengers of the ill-fated limited which left New York last night bound for southern points.

Wreck crews struggled to penetrate the engine cab, buried in the mud, to recover the bodies of Engineer Arthur H. Bryde and Fireman A. H. Pay. Physicians said Benjamin Johnson, 45, Washington, track foreman and Claude Smith, 42, Wading River, L. I., postal clerk, were the most seriously injured.

DENY ST. LOUIS EPIDEMIC DREAD SLEEPING SICKNESS

AQUA CALIENTE, Baja California, Mexico.—(Special)—

Aug. 24.—The epidemic that is causing numerous deaths in St. Louis cannot be sleeping sickness, in the opinion of Dr. Torrance, world famous explorer and outstanding authority on that strange malady.

The famous tropical scientist was interviewed today in his bungalow at Aqua Caliente where he is enjoying a week's relaxation and rest, but lately returned to America from New Guinea and the South Seas where he led a combat expedition to successfully suppress leprosy. Dr. Torrance, whose service in Darkest Africa, Manchuria, Siberia and India, has led to important discoveries serving to check disease, discouraged at length relative to the St. Louis malady.

"Sleeping sickness can only be brought on by a parasite carried by the dread tsetse fly," said the explorer. "And the tsetse fly cannot live out of Africa. It is not found anywhere else in the world, not even in the jungles of South America though they lie in the same equatorial zone. The tsetse fly cannot exist in St. Louis for as much as an hour, even had he been brought there, by accident or chance. We had some fear of tsetse flies being carried from Africa to South America by transatlantic planes but this has not happened. The tsetse fly is strictly an African insect." Dr. Torrance further explained, that by no means are all tsetse flies infected with the

STUDIOS START REBUILD UNITS OF PRODUCTION

Send Individual Calls To Technicians Following End Of Strike

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24.—(UP)—A demoralized motion picture industry today began to rebuild production units as technicians who have been on strike since July 22 were called back to work.

There was no general influx of workers to the studios, despite terms of the strike settlement negotiated in Washington yesterday by the national labor board.

Each studio was individually calling upon men it most desired to return to positions which had temporarily been filled by strike breakers.

Despite the settlement terms that the 3100 strikers were to be taken back "without prejudice," and with strikers being preference over non-employees, it was indicated the producers would give strong consideration to those who did not join the strike "for their loyalty."

Halt Demonstrations

The strike, while it ended peacefully, came just in time to prevent what appeared to be a growing sentiment for marked demonstrations. Picketing of studios, general throughout the strike, was gaining momentum yesterday when word came from Washington that a settlement had been reached.

An attempt of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios to film a picture on busy Wilshire boulevard yesterday was ruined by the jarring of a crowd of nearly 600 strikers.

Report Violence

An act of asserted strike violence was reported to police today. L. T. Galezio, cameraman, who was working during the strike, reported to authorities someone fired a shotgun blast into a room of his home where he was seated. Previously where he was huddled through the windows in the home of Victor Milner, ace cameraman for Paramount, who, because of an individual contract with the studio, had not joined the strike.

While producers claimed they were not badly hampered by the strike of sound engineers, cameramen, laboratory workers, projectionists and other mechanical accumulating evidence tended to disprove the assertion.

OFFICIALS OF STATE TO PAY OWN EXPENSES

Must Prove To Controller Trips Imperative To State Business

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 24.—(UP)—Out-of-state pleasure trips at state expense were brought to an abrupt stop today after a ruling of the attorney general compelled all officials leaving California to prove first to State Controller Ray Riley their trips were on imperative state business.

This ruling—and Riley's determination to use his new power—checks tendencies of many officials to attend eastern conventions during summer months, it was reported. Heretofore expenses of such junkets have been paid by the state.

The issue was brought to the fore when Riley rejected a claim of Mrs. Edmund Brown park commission member, for $25. The money was expended on her trip to New York and Washington.

Park commission officials said Mrs. Brown was sent to Washington to interview government officials.

"The attorney general's ruling," Riley explained, "makes clear that the governor's authorization for such trips does not relieve me of the responsibility for expenditure."

INDICT PAIR FOR L. A. MAIL ROBBERY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Harry E. Dean and Joseph Burke, asserted Chicago gangsters, were under indictment of the federal grand jury today, accused of robbing a U. S. mail truck here last February 23, of $20,000 in cash and securities. Their bail was set at $20,000 each.

Planes Locate Missing Coast Steamer

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 24.—(UP)—The coastwise steamer City of Norfolk, 28 hours overdue here from Baltimore, was located near Watts Island, off the coast of Maryland, today by seaplanes from the Baltimore naval base. All aboard were safe it was reported.

CLAIM WORKERS "MUZZLED" IN OXNARD STRIKE

Protest Alleged Denial Of Right To Free Speech And Urge Probe

OXNARD, Cal., Aug. 24.—(UP)—Charges that Mexican and Filipino sugar beet workers who returned a few days ago from a walkout, had been deprived of the right of free speech and assembly were contained today in telegrams sent U. S. government officials asking an investigation.

The charges were made by Ellis O. Jones, representing the American civil liberties union, who alleged that strikers were "shanghaied" out of town, others jailed illegally and some beaten by police brutally. One telegram was sent to U. S. Attorney Piersen M. Hall at Los Angeles, urging the grand jury investigate the strike. Other messages were sent Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, Governor Rolph and George Creel, California and Oregon NRA publicity director.

In addition to Jones, the telegrams were signed by Mrs. Lincoln Steffens, member of the national committee for the defense of political prisoners; E. Cutler, of the International labor defense league; and A. L. Wirtz, also of the A. C. L. U. The statement said:

"We charge: That the constitutional rights of free speech and free assembly have been violated; that residents have been illegally shanghaied (they call it 'floated') out of town; that strikers have been illegally arrested and some of them beaten up in jail, one of them very severely; all this, we charge, is a conspiracy of the police with the growers to break the strike, and for no other reason."

The strike was ended Monday when growers agreed to increase wages and eliminate "labor contracts. Only one instance of open violence flared during the two-week strike.

WOODIN'S SON BETTER

TUCSON, Ariz., Aug. 24.—(UP)—Condition of William H. Woodin, Jr., who was reported critically ill, is "excellent" and he is doing nicely now," according to a statement today of physicians at the desert sanitarium here.

Woodin was reported last week to have been suffering from a heart ailment. He was brought to the sanitarium here from his home in Los Angeles.

HURRICANE HITS N. Y.

Battered Steamer Reaches Port As Planes Start On Search For Second Ship

FLOODS AND high winds assailed the Atlantic seaboard from North Carolina to Maine today, causing one major train wreck, wide-spread property damage and a mounting death toll that had passed 20 by mid-morning.

Two were killed when a New York-New Orleans train plunged through a flood-weakened bridge near Washington and it was feared more bodies would be found when coaches were pulled from the water.

Four canoes were believed lost in Philadelphia. Four were known dead in other parts of Pennsylvania; three in the New York metropolitan area, eight in the Norfolk-Portsmouth area which bore the brunt of the tropical hurricane, and one in New England.

SOUTHEAST GALE IMPERILS N. Y. SHIPPING, PROPERTY

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(UP)—A strong southeast gale, struck New York City today, imperiling shipping and property from Atlantic City, N. J., to Portland, Me.

Storm warnings were changed to southeast after the metropolitan area had been lashed for more than 12 hours by strong northeast winds. Traffic was snarled, bulkheads smashed, buildings destroyed, crops ruined and roads blocked.

Two lives were reported lost. A man was killed by a live wire blown down in Newark, N. J., and a woman was injured fatally in a motor accident attributed to the wind and rain in Dumont, N. J.

Daring Rescues

Coastless vigilance by the coast guard prevented sea casualties. There were several daring rescues. A motor boat being swept toward the breakers at Cape May, N. J., was saved with two men aboard when it was within 100 yards of jutting rocks. Off Lewes Station, N. J., the coast guard took five men from two gasoline launches which were foundering.

From Sandy Hook, to Cape May, the beleaguered coast suffered heavy damage. Many families left their homes as the surf lashed at foundations. High water drove

FIND COUNTERFEIT PLANT IN PRISON

LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, Aug. 24.—(UP)—A complete counterfeit plant has been found within the walls of the federal penitentiary here, it was learned today on high authority.

Details were unavailable, and prison officials refused to discuss the matter.

"I refuse to discuss that with you," said Warden Hudspeth. "If you want any information, you must get it from Sanford Bates, prison director in Washington, to whom I made a report."

CHARGE DISMISSAL TO BE EXPLAINED

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Eugenia Rose, Evanston nurse, will not be permitted to drop her assault charges against Cecil Smith, Texas polo star, without appearing in court with an explanation, Assistant District Attorney Eugene Wachowski, announced here today. Miss Rose had announced she would drop the charges to "avoid further publicity."

FREAK STORM SWEEPS OVER COUNTY AREA

The first shower swept Santa Ana about 7:30 o'clock last night. Another brisk shower visited the city just before noon today. Damaging approximately $1500 in foodstuffs at the Standard grocery, and pouring through leaky roofs of stores and residences in other parts of the community, the rain left the greatest loss at Huntington Beach, although a large barn containing 30 tons of hay near Midway City caught fire, burning to the ground after the owner, Vernon Heil, had managed to remove his truck and several farming instruments.

Horses Moved
Heil, president of the bean growers' association, yesterday had taken his horses to his brother-in-law's place, thus preventing additional losses. Heil had his teams in the barn at Smetzer and Huntington Beach boulevard when lightning struck early this morning. A Santa Ana fire department truck answered the call.

The heaviest August rain to occur in 10 years drenched the city of Huntington Beach, the lightning and heavy thunder resembling summer storms of the Atlantic coast and the coast of the Gulf of Mexico. Bob Detriton, manager of the Standard grocery reporting the $1500 damage, was only one of several merchants who had trouble with leaky roofs on their establishments. Alpha Beta market reported a minor loss, while several residents pointed out that improper examination of roofs following the earthquake was responsible for the damage to their houses last night. Post office officials handed out slightly wet mail today, due to the fact that some equipment is located in the back of the post office building which is without a roof.

Starts Fire
In Anaheim the only damage reported was at the residence of Frank Busch, of West Broadway. Lightning struck an electrical wire burning a hole in Busch's gas line. The Fullerton fire department made a hurried run this morning to a gum grove on the C. C. Chapman ranch, North Cypress ranch, where a shack was reported burning. Lightning was believed to have started the fire. With the exception of a few transformer fuses which blew out

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Aug. 24. (To the Editor of The Register:) As I look at this N.R.A. after having a long chat with the President about it, and Hugh Johnson, the chief executive, Secretary of Labor Miss Perkins, Senators, well-informed Washington writers, airplane pilots, taxi drivers, bell hops, steel men, oil men, and one lone optimistic bootlegger (who still believed this country would soon see the error of its ways, and return him back his stolen profession,) now as I say I have asked all these about it. (For once in my life I kept still and let them do the talking.) Now the doubt in the scheme is in proportion to the extra money that particular party would be asked to put on the scheme, and even each disagree hoped that it would work, but would prefer having it work without affecting him. Still many a big man was for it heart and soul.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

In various sections of the city, leaving some circuits out of service, the Southern California Edison company experienced no damage. Fred J. Rye, of the superintendent's office in Santa Ana, stated today that all service affected by the storm would be in working order by this evening.

No damage was reported by Earl S. Morow, district manager of the Southern California Bell Telephone company, or by Santa Ana's city engineering department.

Bean farmers, though not needing rain, report little damage was done. To most crops the rain was highly beneficial, and more good than damage resulted, it is reported.

Police Dog To Do Stunts At Clark Home Tomorrow

S. A. Clark, well-known strong man and blacksmith and former police officer, today announced that Clarence Page and his $5000 police dog will give an exhibition at his home, 619 North Artesia street, Santa Ana, tomorrow evening at 7:30, with the general public cordially invited to attend.

In addition to the entertainment offered by Page, the Foursquare gospel band will furnish musical numbers, and Clark will show a few reels of his motion pictures on health and other topics. Clark recently celebrated his 71st birthday with a public party attended by more than 400 guests. On the program he performed several strong-man stunts, including the lifting of a 2x8 ft. table carrying more than 800 pounds.

20 KNOWN DEAD AS GALES RAGE ALONG EASTERN COAST

500 persons from their summer cottages at Oakwood Beach, N. J. Air ports in the metropolitan area cancelled all flights. Harbor traffic was curtailed and all transatlantic ship lines revised their docking schedules to make them dependent upon weather conditions.

Vessels Seek Safety
Several coastwise passenger vessels took refuge in protected inlets.

Scores of small boats were lost when the gale broke their mooring lines and swept them to destruction against piers and bulkheads.

The high wind was accompanied by heavy rain in New York City. Damage was not extensive and was confined to communication lines, small fires caused by short circuits, and trees falling on houses and motor cars.

Atlantic Beach suffered the heaviest damage along the Long Island coast, a 1000-foot trestle was sheered away by pounding heads.

At Cape May, N. J., the 800-foot municipal pier was washed away. A 90-foot mast of the coast guard station there was snapped. High tides entered the town of Longport, near Atlantic City.

Creeks flowing into Delaware bay were backed up by high tides and flooded a considerable territory. Farther inland, crop damage was heavy. Farmers in Salem, Cumberland and Camden counties faced the loss of their entire summer's work as thousands of fruit trees were broken and plants were beaten to pieces. Fruit growers estimated their loss in the three counties would exceed $200,000.

TREES CRASH IN FRONT OF WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Floods threatened low-lying sections of the nation's capital today, in the wake of a tropical storm that sent trees crashing in front of the White House, shattered windows, paralyzed traffic and disrupted power and communication systems.

Winds backed up Chesapeake bay waters into the Potomac river to a record high tide mark of 29 feet. At ebbs tide, water stood three feet deep in low sections of the city and higher water was anticipated when high tide coincides with a rush of water from higher sections of Virginia, drained by the Potomac.

Galelike winds attained a velocity of 51 miles per hour. Crashing trees endangered pedestrians and vehicular traffic.

Heavy Rain Falls
Weather bureau officials estimated 6.18 inches of rain fell here in the 24 hours ending at 8 p. m. last night. The rainfall slackened at that hour by a drizzle continued most of the night.

Fears were expressed for the safety of vacationists in resorts along the ocean and bay fronts.

Barriades of sandbags were erected at Baltimore last night to protect business houses along the bay which was at flood stage. Press rooms of newspapers were threatened with inundation.

CRIPPLED STEAMER REACHES PORT
NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 24.—(UP)—The battered coastal steamer Madison made port today after passing through a hurricane so intense that passengers had to be chained together to prevent them from being washed overboard.

Capt. William Heath, veteran master of the Madison, brought his sturdy ship into Norfolk with her superstructure partly torn away and with two sailors lost overboard in the storm which forced him to send out distress calls yesterday.

The captain said that when the storm struck the vessel he ordered his 37 passengers to gather in the center of the vessel. They huddled together and he had them fastened to each other with chains.

SECOND STEAMER REPORTED MISSING
NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 24.—(UP)—The steamer City of Norfolk, out of Baltimore bound for Norfolk since Tuesday night, was unreported today. Captain A. K. Marshall of the steamer State of Maryland said he last saw the City of Norfolk battling through high seas in Chesapeake Bay late yesterday.

The number of passengers aboard the City of Norfolk was not known here, but was estimated at 30 to 40. Coast guard craft set out today in an effort to locate the steamer, the only vessel unaccounted for in the storm. The State of Maryland came in port badly battered and with part of her rail gone. Captain Marshall said it was the worst storm in his 18 years as a captain on the Atlantic.

NAVY PLANES START SEARCH
BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 24.—(UP)—A squadron of navy planes has left Langley field, Va., to search for the missing steamer City of Norfolk. The Baltimore office of the Chesapeake steamship company reported today.

The steamer at 10 a. m. was 24 hours overdue at Norfolk, having left Baltimore Tuesday night.

SCOPE OF RAT ERADICATION DRIVE EXTENDED

More than 14,000 rats have been killed in the war against the disease-carrying rodents being waged by the Orange county health department, it was learned today.

Rats in excess of 6000 have been actually trapped here and more than 8000 have been poisoned, according to Sanitary Inspector E. E. Frisby.

A new phase of the rat elimination campaign will be launched in the near future when activities are spread over the entire county, Dr. E. L. Russell of the health department said today.

Beginning next week, and continuing for some time, every rat caught will be dissected in a special laboratory to be stationed here, to determine what, if any, diseases the rats are carrying.

The business section of Santa Ana has been gone over several times already, and more than 100 residences have been rid of the pests by the crew of 11 men working under an R. F. C. fund appropriation.

Persons desiring their residences rid of rats are asked to communicate with the health department in the courthouse annex.

FAVORITES ADVANCE IN DEL MONTE GOLF

DEL MONTE, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Amateur golf stars advanced on the quarter-finals in the fourth day of the annual California amateur championships at Pebble Beach today.

Dr. Cliff Baker of Portland, Ore., the only out-of-state player remaining in the tournament, surprised the gallery with his decisive defeat of Fred Clark, Jr., of Los Angeles, 7 and 5.

Ernest Combs, Long Beach, had a tight match with Stuart Hawley, Oakland, winning on the 19th hole.

Jack Finger of Burlingame, one of the favorites, eliminated Capt. A. Bullock Webster, 1924 champion, 2 and 1.

Harold Thompson of Glendale, another one of the leading lights, played true to form when he defeated F. P. Hixon of Sacramento, 2 and 1.

Charles Seaver of Los Angeles, odds-on favorite, continued his steady march by overcoming H. B. Westbrook, Los Angeles, 5 and 4.

Two Injured In Auto Collision

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Oman, 1122 Cypress street, were injured when their car and a machine driven by Miss Marion Cruickshank, Tustin, collided at Chestnut and Oak streets, yesterday at 12 p. m.

Miss Cruickshank was travelling east on Chestnut at the time of the crash, according to reports. Oman received an injured leg while his wife suffered an injured back and left hip. They were treated by a physician and taken home. Neither car was badly damaged.

NEW SURPRISE IN TRIAL OF LAMSON CASE

ed to use both women to testify for Lamson.

As the prosecution engaged in an eleven-hour search for a missing witness, peremptory challenges allotted to each side neared exhaustion and seating of a jury impended.

Myra, Hopi Indian girl of 18 and one of three former maids in the Lamson cottage at Palo Alto where Mrs. Allene Thorpe Lamson was found dead in her bathtub, was hunted by County Detective William Driscoll.

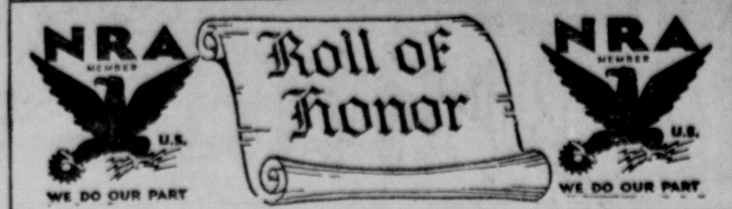

Prosecutor Allan Landis wants testimony of Myra, last seen on the Hopi reservation in Arizona, in an attempt to show that the home life of the Lamsons was not the "perfect marriage" of campus tradition.

DEFENDANT IN LIQUOR CASE CHANGES PLEA

Richard O. Farrell, 2006 South Main street, scheduled to be retried today in police court for possession of liquor, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty this morning, was sentenced to pay $300 or serve 150 days in the county jail, and then had the sentence suspended at the motion and recommendation of both defense and prosecuting attorneys.

Farrell was represented in court by Attorney Dave Wetlin, who said that Farrell had decided to change his plea and waive time for sentencing. Judge J. G. Mitchell pronounced sentence but suspended it when it was shown that this was Farrell's first offense, he was without funds, had an honorable army record and was supporting a family. Wetlin made the motion for leniency and City Attorney Clyde Downing added his recommendation. Farrell was warned that he would be sentenced if he violated any liquor law.

Farrell was tried before a jury last Thursday but a retrial was called by Downing when the jury-men failed to agree and were dismissed. It was understood that the vote stood 11 to 1 for conviction after the seven hours of deliberation.

WE DO OUR PART

made at the meeting in Ketter's cafe this morning.

The big event will be a "Indies" day" program scheduled for September 7, arrangements for which are being made by a committee headed by Harold Mathews. An outstanding program is being arranged for this event, including 24 professional entertainers, Mathews said.

Hubert Bown will be in charge of the program next Thursday and will present entertainment by the Meglin Kiddies.

The program today was under the direction of Guy Gilbert. Musical numbers were directed by Lawrence Graves and included vocal comedy numbers by a quartet composed of Sara Sargent, Yvonne Nelson, Howard Davis and Norman Watson. Mrs. Graves also gave a reading.

Details of the wreck were not learned here at a late hour but the abandoned car was found last night and the supposition is that Boyd has stolen another machine. The state-wide search for the prisoner shifted to San Diego when a cafe owner who was robbed Monday night was shown photographs of Boyd and thought he was connected with the robbery.

Boyd dropped from a third story window of the hospital by making a rope of sheets and prying open a window with part of his bed.

MERCHANTS TO WAGE WAR ON PEDDLERS HERE

A war against peddlers who cut in on normal business of Santa Ana merchants will be waged by the Santa Ana Merchants association, it was announced today by A. Cavalli, manager, following a meeting of the board of directors last night.

Thousands of peddlers go from door to door annually in Santa Ana, selling everything from a mousetrap to a piano, Cavalli said, including sales of furniture and delivery of chairs from trucks.

A plan to stop the peddling is being perfected, and a small metal sign will be placed in a conspicuous spot in front of houses, Cavalli said. The sign will read: "No Peddlers or Agents. We Buy Absolutely Nothing at the Door. Everything This Family Needs is Supplied by Our Local Merchants. These Local Merchants Help Local Employment and Help to Build Our City."

"Housewives are bothered continually with peddlers," Cavalli declared, "many of whom have no license to sell and manage to evade the police and license inspectors. Many are driven away by the police and license inspectors but it is not possible for them to patrol the entire city."

"All the merchants ask is the co-operation of housewives. They alone can stop the practice. In San Diego and other cities women have signed a pledge to support only local merchants and results have been shown in increased sales. When the tags are ready for distribution the president of the Merchants association will appoint a special committee of 25 to make a house to house canvass."

ACTIVITIES OF P.-T. A. COUNCIL ARE ANNOUNCED

Plans for regular and special meetings of the Santa Ana Council of Parents and Teachers were announced today with the opening of school looming. It was announced today by Mrs. Dale Elliott, publicity chairman.

Resumption of activities will be marked first with a reception for teachers. Tuesdays have been set aside for regular meeting days, with the first Tuesday of the month set for council meetings, second Tuesday for elementary meetings, third Tuesday for high school and fourth Tuesday for junior high schools.

The council consists of nine Santa Ana schools, Lowell, McKinley, Roosevelt, John Muir, Edison, Woodrow Wilson, Frances Willard, Julia Lathrop, high school and junior college. The executive board consists of the local principals, elected officers and department chairmen of the Council and Frank Henderson, superintendent of schools.

The council executive board will start this year's work with a meeting at the executive building, 1012 North Main, with the usual pot luck luncheon, followed by a business meeting September 5.

Mrs. Newell Moore, Council membership chairman, asks the presidents to bring their membership chairmen when plans for the membership drive will be made. Council chairmen will outline their plans for the coming year.

Council President Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford has invited the executive board to an informal tea at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. L. Mayhill, 1114 South Broadway, from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. on September 13.

The council is perfecting plans for the district meeting September 21, to be held at the Frances Willard school at an all day meeting. State officers are expected to attend. The Spanish motif is to be carried out in decorating. A luncheon is to be served at noon, followed by Spanish music by Sol Coules players in the patio.

Members of the executive board, together with a copy of revised plans for the Tustin grammar school, which was damaged in the March earthquake.

Original plans sent the state by the Tustin board were returned on the grounds they did not comply with the code requirements.

The Tustin board has made arrangements for the use of vacant store buildings and the primary building when school opens on September 11. The main grammar school building has been condemned and cannot be used for class purposes unless the improvements required by the state board are carried out.

Board members took the stand that the work planned by them would make the school building entirely earthquake proof.

A third payment from federal relief funds for unemployment work relief in Orange county was received today by County Welfare Director Byron V. Curry from R. C. Branson, Sacramento, federal relief administrator for the state.

The payment received today amounted to $11,000. Previous payments this month were for $6800 and $6400, making a total of $24,200 received as government aid this month.

Currey announced today that a representative of the state emergency relief committee, in charge of cooperative work, was scheduled to arrive in Santa Ana today to work out a plan for affording relief to unemployed organizations in the county in their various enterprises.

The arrival of the state officials will mark the first attempt in Orange county for assistance of the state in working with unemployed groups, who have asked aid of the board of supervisors in their canning and other projects.

State relief money will not be available until after the bonds issued on the $20,000,000 bond issue voted at the last election are sold. This is expected to be around October 15. The state is supposed to furnish one-third, the government one-third and the county one-third of the funds for work relief programs.

A tricycle was stolen from the home of Charles L. Yates, 2004 South Birch street, Tuesday night. It was reported to police yesterday.

Two saxophones, brief case, music and music stand valued at $333, were stolen from the car of Howard A. Greene, R. D. 1, Box 167, Anaheim, while it was parked in his garage Monday night. He reported to the sheriff's office yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lynch, Los Angeles, charged with violation of the Dyer Act, were booked at the county jail last night by federal officers pending their trial on August 29. They are each held under $1500 bail.

Dick Gaines, 27, 312 West Chapman avenue, Fullerton, and Clarence Pumphrey, 37, 131 South Highland street, Santa Ana, were booked at the county jail for intoxication yesterday by Officer Jack Delist of Fullerton.

Court Notes

Dave Lowen, sentenced to serve two years for non-support of minor children, has been paroled from the county chain gang. He was sentenced on January 29, 1932 and his sentence would have expired next January.

Charges against James E. Strong of issuing bank checks with intent to defraud have been dismissed by the district attorney. Strong was brought before Judge D. J. Dodge of Costa Mesa on August 16 for his preliminary hearing.

Margaret Croughen, charged with desertion of minor children, had her preliminary hearing continued to August 25 when she appeared in justice court yesterday.

Lawrence Myers, mechanic charged with drunk driving has been committed to the county jail by Police Judge Mitchell.

Emil Ulbricht, Anaheim, and Gerald Patterson, Alhambra, were fined $8 for speeding when they appeared in police court yesterday.

A. F. Mehl was fined $1 for overtime parking by Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday.

John Jordan, charged with petty theft after attempting to steal a watch from the Santa Ana Commercial company offices, was brought before Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday and given a 30 day jail sentence.

Bob Murphy, 63, charged with drunkenness, was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence when he appeared in police court yesterday, with the provision that he does not touch liquor for one year.

TUSTIN BOARD IN PROTEST ON STATE RULING

Declaring that the code of the state board of architecture for schools is prohibitive in expense, the Tustin grammar school board last night sent a protest to the board, together with a copy of revised plans for the Tustin grammar school, which was damaged in the March earthquake.

Original plans sent the state by the Tustin board were returned on the grounds they did not comply with the code requirements.

The Tustin board has made arrangements for the use of vacant store buildings and the primary building when school opens on September 11. The main grammar school building has been condemned and cannot be used for class purposes unless the improvements required by the state board are carried out.

Board members took the stand that the work planned by them would make the school building entirely earthquake proof.

Santa Ana's chicken thief, who stole hens valued at more than $75 from three homes in the south of the city Tuesday night, came to the attention of police again today with the report that two additional pens had been looted.

Mrs. A. E. Fowler, 1123 South Flower street, had 14 chickens valued at $20 taken Tuesday night but did not discover her loss until yesterday afternoon.

C. D. Eckwall, 1435 South Flower street, lost three Rhode Island hens valued at $3 last night. The theft brings the total to 62 hens and two turkeys.

MOTOR TRADES GROUPS WORK ON AGREEMENTS

Announcement that 17 crafts allied with the Automotive Trades Association of Orange county have completed their codes of fair competition and that the other eight groups would have their working schedules completed this week was made last night at the executive committee meeting of the association.

Harry Riley, secretary, gave a report which showed a gain of 38 members during the past week and a series of nightly meetings among Orange county automotive men. Four of the crafts will conclude discussion and present new codes today, Riley said.

The repairmen and jobbers also held meetings last night. The general repair members gathered at the McGrath garage in Huntington Beach while the jobbers met at the Builders Exchange building. The tractor sales and service craft will hold a preliminary meeting this afternoon to draft a tentative code and a general meeting of all county representatives will be held tomorrow for action.

BEACH DRIVER RISKS LIFE TO SAVE CHILDREN

Capt. Juduch Lecade of the fishing barge off San Clemente pier saved three children from possible death or injury in Laguna Beach yesterday and endangered his own life, in the process.

Lecade, who is 45 years old and lives at 210 Seville street in the Spanish Village, was driving north on Coast Boulevard near the Laguna Beach south city limits. The car ahead of him stopped so suddenly that he was forced to veer to port, as he expressed it, to avoid a collision. To his horror he saw three children dart out on the highway immediately in his path. Captain Lecade steered as far as possible to the left side of the highway. He ran the car into some posts set to mark a barranca, knocked down three of them and crashed the vehicle into the door of a garage owned by Edward G. Chatham at the head of Dumond Drive. Then he lost consciousness.

Witnesses to the accident called Police Chief Abe W. Johnson, who found the captain still unconscious and bleeding profusely from numerous cuts about the head, was rushed to the Laguna Beach hospital, where he revived. Dr. B. B. Mason sewed up numerous cuts and treated bruises and two hours later Captain Lecade was able to go to the police station to make out an accident report and then go home.

According to witnesses, the three children had been standing at the side of the road and suddenly stepped in front of the car ahead of Lecade's. The squeaking of his brakes evidently frightened them and they ran onto the highway instead of returning to the side of the road.

NOTED DRIVER VISITS COUNTY

Pictured here is Eddie Pullen, noted automotive engineer and driver with the stock Ford V-8 model which he is using on a 10-day tour over a circuitous route 127 miles long which brings him through a number of Orange county cities as shown on the accompanying map. The fact-finding tour started today.

FACT FINDING
FORD DRIVER
IN S. A. TODAY

Eddie Pullen, famous automotive engineer and one-time racing driver, began the first lap of his 10-day "Ford V-8 Fact-Finding Run" at 12 noon today, and arrived at George Dutton's showrooms here shortly before 1 o'clock. A fleet of 40 blue-and-white Ford sedans followed Pullen, acting as his escort during the lap.

For the next 10 days and nine nights, Pullen will follow a route passing through Santa Ana and 30 adjacent cities. Driving at all times at average operating speed, Pullen is expected to demonstrate accurately, as a neutral expert, the gas, oil and water mileage which local owners can expect of the new Ford V-8 under conditions typical of this area. He will also make a full report of the car's performance at all times during the test.

Unbiased newspapermen will accompany the car on every lap to check the measurements of each refuel.

"The Ford dealers of this area have just one reason for conducting this spectacular run," Dutton explained. "That is to show conclusively the actual performance of the V-8 under everyday circumstances. It is one of a series of tests which have been run to educate the public in all parts of the country."

S. A. YOUTHS RETURN TO MARINE SCHOOL

Returning to the merchant marine training base at Tiburon, in Marin county, Edward Johnston Haddon, son of Mrs. Sara Haddon, 1014 French street, and Carl Bowers, son of Mrs. Bertha Bowers, 116 East Washington avenue, have completed a two months' furlough here.

Carl Bowers is a second classman at the training station, while Johnston Haddon is now a first classman, following the recent graduation of students. The latter has been honored by his appointment to the post of cadet chief engineer, appointments to such offices being made upon the basis of scholastic standing, personality and executive ability.

In addition to theoretical training, students also receive actual training aboard the U. S. S. California State, merchant marine training ship, now at the base at Tiburon.

NEW AUXILIARY
ORGANIZED BY
I. O. O. F. GROUP

FULLERTON, Aug. 24.—A new auxiliary was formed in Fullerton last night, when members of the Fullerton encampment No. 75 met with their wives at Odd Fellows' temple for the purpose of assisting in organizing. Mrs. Hazel Solesbee, of Placentia, was elected president.

Others elected include Mrs. Olive Patton, vice president; Mrs. Helen Zinke, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Solesbee appointed her by-laws committee, consisting of Lois Cooper, Mrs. Sophia Kaylor and Mrs. Alice Goodwin.

Arrangements were discussed for the charter membership roll, and the 13 women present signified their intention of placing their names thereon. The regular meetings will be the second Wednesdays of each month.

The season opened with a supper, served to the encampment members and their wives, by Mrs. G. H. Grunwald, Mrs. Batchman and Mrs. Solesbee.

At the encampment session, Grand Sentinel Kellman and Grand Junior Warden Funk, of Pomona, were principal speakers.

The next regular meeting of the encampment is set for September 13.

Operation Of NRA
In Anaheim Told
Members Of Club

FULLERTON, Aug. 24.—J. C. Elliott, of Anaheim Toastmasters' club, was principal speaker at the Fullerton 20-20 club meeting Wednesday night, when he told of the NRA plan and of its operation in Anaheim. Another guest, Leonard Lee, of Anaheim, also gave a short talk.

John King was chairman of the speaker committee and Tom Prangle of the entertainment. Prangle presented Miss Georgia Carroll, in several vocal numbers. Members of the Norco baseball team, sponsored by 20-20 in the Fullerton groups, were special guests.

September 1 was set as the date for the tennis tournament the club is sponsoring, with Al Blackford, chairman in charge. Those wishing to enter are to notify Arthur Johnson, 1110-W.

'FIXED' TOPIC
IN FULLERTON
THIS EVENING

FULLERTON, Aug. 24.—The Rev. Walter A. Staub, of Glendale, district superintendent of the South Pacific district of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, spoke at the Fullerton Gospel Tabernacle, 124 East Commonwealth avenue, last night.

In his sermon on the subject, "Spiritual Heart-Burn," based on the account of the Emmaus walk of Christ with two disciples following His resurrection, he showed how Christ opened their eyes, the Scriptures unto them, and their understanding. He made it clear that privileges and opportunities given us by God mean definite responsibility.

Little Helen Fritz gave two vocal numbers, accompanying herself on the guitar. Tonight the Rev. Mr. Staub will speak on the subject, "Fixed." Groups from Huntington Park and Santa Ana are expected to attend and there will be special music. The superintendent will be present to speak on Friday night, and announce his subject for that night as "The King's Business." There will also be a Saturday night service. Evangelist Bert Miller announces that services will be continued next Sunday afternoon and night and next week, excepting Monday night.

Party Observes
Fifth Birthday

BREA, Aug. 24.—Mildred Fields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fields, celebrated her fifth birthday anniversary recently with several older friends assisting her. The party was given by Mildred's grandmother, Mrs. G. M. Phillips, on the lawn of the Congregational church property. The children enjoyed several games and were then served with refreshments of ice cream and cake. Decorations were in pink and white, a lovely pink and white birthday cake bearing five glowing candles gracing the center of the table.

Guests were Floyd Kimmons, Dick Turk, Walter Crowe, George Mabes, Phyllis Barnes, Dona Lee McGraw, Dolores Smith, Phyllis Strickland, Mary Lou Kyle, Shirley Craig, Lois Ward, Loretta Lee and Coral Esby, with Mrs. R. W. Spensley as a very special guest. Mrs. Phillips was assisted in arrangements for the party by Mrs. C. C. Crookshank, Mrs. Kyle Bell and the honoree's mother, Mrs. Fields.

SERVICES FOR
P. SCHUMACHER
HELD FRIDAY

FULLERTON, Aug. 24.—Funeral services for P. A. Schumacher, 90, Civil war veteran and a pioneer resident of Fullerton, who was found hanging in his apartment, 214 1-2 North Spadra road, about noon yesterday by his widow, will be held Friday at 2 o'clock from the J. E. Seale Funeral parlors, 201 West Commonwealth avenue. The Rev. E. J. Statton, Altadena, former pastor of the Fullerton Presbyterian church, will officiate at the services. Interment will be at Loma Vista cemetery.

Members of the Daughters of Veterans and Women's Relief corps will appear in a group at the services.

Schumacher was believed to have committed suicide because of ill health. He was the organizer of the Malvern Hill post of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Born in Germany May 21, 1843, Schumacher came to America with his parents in 1857, settling on a farm in Illinois. At the outbreak of the Civil war he joined the Union army and was wounded several times in battle.

Besides his widow he is survived by two sons, William Schumacher, Fullerton, and Roy Schumacher, a garageman in Long Beach, and the first child born in Fullerton, a brother, Victor, a resident of Fullerton, also survives.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in pimples. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resists a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

WHITER WASHES—COOLER KITCHENS

"Saves my hands—saves the clothes!" says Mrs. V. Norris of N. Van Ness Ave.

"Rinso makes the hardest water soft as rain! I get clothes 4 or 5 shades whiter—without scrubbing. That saves my hands—and saves the clothes! I use Rinso for dishes and all cleaning, too. It's grand!"

MRS. VANIE NORRIS,
811 1/2 N. Van Ness Ave., Santa Ana, Cal.

Clothes washed the "no-scrub" Rinso way last 2 or 3 times longer—you'll save lots of money! Great in washers, too; the makers of 40 famous washers recommend it. Gives twice as much suds, cup for cup, as lightweight, puffed-up soaps—even in hardest water. Get Rinso at your grocer's today.

ADVANTAGES TO CO-OPERATIVES OF ACT CITED

Chester C. Davis, director of the production division of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, sees a broader opportunity for farmers' cooperative associations than they have ever had before, according to a statement today from the office of Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg. Davis thinks the Agricultural Adjustment act will do the cooperative movement more good than an act directly fostering cooperative marketing would have done.

When the Adjustment act gets into full operation, it will be possible, for the first time, for co-operatives to promise only what they can do. By taking over jobs that the cooperatives cannot yet perform, and relieving the co-ops of responsibility for surpluses and prices at this critical time, Davis holds that the Adjustment act will be of very real service to the farmers' organizations themselves. It will enable the co-ops to specialize in jobs that they are already well fitted to do, he believes.

He emphasizes that the Agricultural Adjustment act aims to control prices through the control of production, but has nothing to do with market prices directly. One of the things he thinks may be very important for the co-ops to do in the future is to exercise a moderating influence on speculation by regulating the flow of commodities to market.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies do not give quick and permanent relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts almost dead?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonard and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick, impure blood, heals and restores the affected parts.

Dr. Leonard's HEM-ROID has an almost unbelievable record of success right in this city. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when McCoy Drug Store invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not help?

Piles no matter how stubborn the case?

FULLERTON AUTOISTS INJURED IN WRECKS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rose, 116 West Truflow street, Fullerton, and George Gohar, 658 West Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton, were injured in wrecks yesterday in the northern section of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose were taken to the Fullerton General hospital after their car left the road and struck a telephone pole on Norwalk road near Northam station yesterday morning. According to reports, Rose was traveling at a high rate of speed when his car left the road and rolled out of control for more than 600 feet before striking the pole. Both were to be released today.

George Gohar, 47, was hurt when a car in which he was riding was involved in an accident on Orangethorpe avenue and Spadra road at 8:30 p. m. last night. Paul Pouplier, 64, 402 South Claudina avenue, Anaheim, drove his car into the machine of Joe A. Brown, 73, 212 East Willshire avenue, Fullerton, as Brown was making a left hand turn on Orangethorpe.

September 13, 1932, the thermometer registered 136.4 degrees in the shade at Azila, in the northern African desert.

CONTEST FOR SCHOOL BIDS GROWING HOT

With only 10 days left in the Register carriers' "Clothes for School Contest," city and suburban carriers continue the heated battle to win new outfits for school before September 2 when the race ends. Growing activity is seen daily, with the leaders in each group changing places in favor of a competitor at each new count of points. R. M. Conklin, circulation manager, in charge of the contest, said today.

Offering merchandise which is on display in the window of Hugh J. Lowe store, prizes ranging from $35 down to $2 to each group, 128 Register carriers embarked August 1 on the contest, the first of its kind to be staged for carriers by the Register, which has proven unquestionably the most popular contest yet conducted.

In the city group, William Semanacher leads with 51,400 points, while the suburban group is headed by Raymond Martindale, of Brea, who has 34,000 points. Complete standing of the carriers in each group are listed on page four of today's issue.

There are five ways in which carriers may earn points in the contest. New subscription, collections from new subscriptions, collections from renewal subscriptions, perfect service and increasing their routes.

$130,000 SUIT FILED AGAINST TRUCK DRIVER

Mike V. Robinson, El Centro truck driver who is awaiting retrial in superior court on charges of manslaughter in connection with the death of H. L. Williams, E. Segundo, in a traffic accident at the Arhons on Newport boulevard and Coast Highway July 2, was made the defendant in a second damage suit filed against him in superior court today.

The widow and daughter of the man killed in the accident, Effie L. Williams and Helen Doris Williams, 11, are plaintiffs in the action.

Plaintiffs are seeking damages amounting to $130,000, $15,000 each for personal injuries alleged to have been incurred in the crash, and for $30,000 each for the loss of the husband and father.

Other defendants named in the case are Mrs. Cleve Thompson, W. A. Tondro, Dale Ramsey and the Safety Corner Service station and truck terminus of Los Angeles and El Centro.

Robinson is being sued for a total of $12,916 damages by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Perrine and their daughter, Lenora Perrine, who were allegedly injured in the same wreck.

A jury in superior court disagreed when Robinson went on trial recently on the manslaughter charge. He is awaiting retrial.

20-30 DELEGATES GO TO CONVENTION

A group of members of the Santa Ana Twenty-Three club, headed by Leroy Burns, president and official delegate, left Santa Ana today for Santa Cruz to attend the national convention of Twenty-Three clubs, to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Besides President Burns, the group included Joel Gole, assistant city attorney, who is the new governor of district five and who will take office at the convention, Andy Anderson, Ray Fisher, Dwight Miller, Leland Finley, Dr. Lawrence Cameron and Dick Ewert.

NEW CREDIT GROUP ORGANIZES HERE

Organization of the Automotive Wholesalers of Orange county, formed for credit protection, was announced today by Phil Brown, manager of the Business Men's association of Santa Ana.

All wholesalers of automotive parts in Orange county have become affiliated with the new organization, Brown said, for the establishment of a community credit policy. All the firms will work through the B. M. A.

Frank Ansel, secretary of the group, has been instrumental in the formation of the organization.

Government Job Salaries Open Again To Levies

A new state law now in effect amending the code of civil procedure gives merchants and other the right to file transcripts of judgments against city, county or state employees, except those elected to office, it was pointed out today by Phil Brown, manager of the Business Men's Association of Santa Ana.

Suit can be filed on claims against the governmental employees and if a judgment is secured, a transcript of the judgment can be filed with city, county or state auditors, who are required to honor the transcript.

City, county and state employees for the past two years have been exempt from judgments on their wages.

FIRE "TOOTS" OWN ALARM

HOOD RIVER, Ore. (UP)—

When M. R. Fosberg's barn caught fire here early this morning it set off its own alarm. The blaze reached a truck in the structure and burned a wire on the vehicle's horn, causing a short circuit and the instrument to toot lustily.

STAR BOAT FLEET MOBILIZES

Below is Movie Star II, the star yacht in which Eddie Fink, inset, will defend his international championship in the annual classic race at Long Beach, beginning today and closing next Thursday.

Burgees of ten or more foreign-born France with Jean Peytel, famous skipper.

Entrance of yachts from Venezuela, Philippine Islands, France and Havana, among others, insures the regatta to be the most colorful of its history. The Solent fleet of England also has entered a boat.

Fink's yachting career began in 1924 when he was 15. Not until 1928, however, did he enter the international spotlight. That year he crewed for Judge Schauer in Movie Star II in the International championship off Balboa. In 1929, Fink became skipper of the Movie Star II and sailed it to 15th place at Lake Ponchartraine, La. In 1930 Fink won the Lipton Cup in the Males.

Two years ago, off Long Island Sound, Fink, in the Zoa, tied for second place in the international regatta off Newport, Conn. Last year, in the youngest entrant, he will sail the Ripple from Chesapeake Bay.

Next to Miss Raskob comes H. M. Dowsett Jr., 14-year-old champion of the Hawaiian Islands from the Pearl Harbor fleet. Still another youthful entrant is Jacques LeBrun, nephew of the former president of France, who will sail for the Flotte de Paris of North-

Don Football Squad Reports Sept. 5

ARIZONA TRIP LIKELY; TROY'S FROSH COMING

Junior college football drill in Santa Ana will open Sept. 5, a week from Tuesday, it was learned today, along with an announcement by Coach Bill Cook that his 1933 Dons might play the Arizona freshmen in an inter-sectional game at Tucson in early October.

A flat guarantee of $500 would be necessary to complete arrangements for the Arizona contest, and it is believed that university officials of that state will seriously consider Santa Ana's Dons.

Refreshed after several fishing and hunting trips into Northern California and Mexico, Cook is back in Orange county planning his next grid campaign.

While north, the Don coach spent most of his time at Alder Springs and Bell Springs in Glen and Mendocino counties. His hunting party, including Garden Grove's John Ward, killed 13 deer. At Talmadge, Cook visited his 1933 captain-elect, Benjamin ("Bono") Koral, who is working there during the summer. Weighing around 175 as a first-string tackle here last fall, Koral now moves the scales to 194, and is "very anxious to crawl into a Don football suit," according to Cook.

Among the veterans returning will be Santa Ana's 1932 backfield stars, Harold Welty of Orange and Fred ("Porky") Bell of Santa Ana. Jack Fredericks, '32 captain, and Jimmie Hall, blocking halfback who preceded Fredericks as captain before sustaining a knee injury which forced him to retire for the season, also will report, along with Bill McDaniels, Charles Bowden, and Bill Boudin.

The Dons open their 1933 practice season against the U. S. C. freshmen, probably at Municipal Bowl Saturday night, September 23. The contest will be played here and the date is definite but it may be slated for the afternoon, Cook said.

The Dons were the second junior college team in history to defeat the Trojan freshmen, 13-7, in Los Angeles last fall, which should make the Santa Ana-U. S. C. Frosh game a real drawing card here.

Following the Tro-Babe opener comes a night game at Claremont with the Pomona varsity September 30. The proposed tilt with Arizona's freshmen would be arranged for October 7, Santa Ana's bye date in the Eastern Junior College conference. Tentative practice games have been set with Long Beach and Pasadena, but no dates have been mentioned.

'Cats' Travel To H. B. For Second Game

Hoping to square the game-score at one apiece, Santa Ana's Green Cats travel to Huntington Beach tonight to play the second of a five-game series for the Orange County Night league baseball championship. Huntington Beach won the opener here last Monday, 2-0.

"Long Jim" Coates, hero of the Junior Oilers' initial triumph, probably will work again for Huntington Beach but Manager Joe Harless of the Santa Ana club announced he would use Mearl Youel instead of Lyle Morse who dropped a 2-0 duel to Coates in the opener.

The clubs return to Santa Ana for their third game next Monday night.

'LITTLE BROWN JUG' RETURNS TO CAMPUS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 24.—(INS)—The famous "Little Brown Jug," symbol of Michigan-Minnesota football rivalry, which mysteriously disappeared before the 1931 game between the two state universities, had been as mysteriously retrieved here today.

A janitor found it behind some bushes on the grounds of the medical building.

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 24.—(INS)—Cecil Smith, Texas cowboy and star polo player, was en route east today, freed of charges of assaulting Miss Eugenia Rose, Evanston nurse.

Declaring in a note handed by her father, Dr. L. W. Rose, aged dentist of Cooperstown, N. Dak., to Magistrate Brightmire, that she "expected to be married and didn't want any more publicity," the pretty nurse asked that the charges be dropped, stating that she would not appear to prosecute.

Teacher Has Ace Shot At Willowick

Perhaps A. Eidelson should be teaching golf instead of science.

Eidelson, a science teacher at Garden Grove high school and a brother of the former U. S. C. football player, Harry Eidelson, made a hole-in-one at the Willowick golf club here yesterday. He did it on the No. 6 hole, at 194 yards, using a No. 3 iron.

Eidelson was playing with L. L. Dolg, principal at Garden Grove H. S.

Mrs. Joe Schaffer scored a 55-12-43 to win a selective nine-hole tournament for women.

Mrs. Clara Hoovne was second, 59-15-44.

PEGGY KERR IS UPSET VICTIM IN S. A. TENNIS

Santa Ana's Open tennis tournament today moved into the third round, with quarter-finals scheduled tomorrow, semi-finals Saturday and the finals on Sunday.

All of the favorites survived Wednesday's second round except one of the feminine stars, the second-seeded Peggy Kerr of Long Beach who was unexpectedly defeated by Mary Ellen Poor of Santa Ana. Miss Poor, a comely redhead, played one of the best matches of her career to eliminate Miss Kerr in straight sets, 6-3, 5-6.

Mrs. Catherine Rose of Los Angeles, first-seeded and a heavy favorite to sweep the women's singles division, eliminated Twila Heath, Santa Ana schoolgirl, in love sets. Only Mildred Ward, a Santa Ana player of considerable experience, apparently stands in Mrs. Rose's road to the championship.

None of the three men's singles contests went past the usual two sets. Al Zorbe of Long Beach won from Toby White, 6-2, 7-5. White's defeat leaving only Lewie Wetherell and Kenneth Ranney to represent the host organization in the tournament's "dark horses." Chilson and Blair both were shorts.

The three musketeers, Wetherell, Gillingham and Jack Creamer, romped through the junior boys' schedule without the loss of a set. Wetherell polished off Bob Peacock, Gillingham took Meryl Hallman and Creamer, first-seeded, put out L. Raymond.

The summary: Men's singles—Al Zorbe defeated Toby White, 6-2, 7-5; Meryl Chilson d. Walter Blair, 6-3, 6-4; Dave Gillingham d. Bob Myers, 6-0, 6-0. Women's singles—Catherine Rose defeated Twila Heath, 6-0, 6-0; Mary Ellen Poor d. Peggy Kerr, 6-3, 8-6. Junior boys' singles—Jack Creamer d. Raymond White, 6-3, 6-0; Wetherell d. B. Peacock, 6-3, 6-0; Dave Gillingham d. M. Hallman, 6-0, 6-3. Men's doubles—Wetherell and Chilson d. Kenneth Ranney and White, 6-4, 6-3.

Junior girls' singles—Twila Heath d. L. Wilcox, 6-0, 6-2; Marjorie Lauderbach d. E. Clark, 6-0, 6-2. Girls' doubles—C. Rose and L. Wheeler d. M. Poor and J. Smalley, 6-1, 6-0; M. Lauderbach and L. Wetherell d. R. Lamb and T. White, 6-3, 7-5.

STAGG EN ROUTE WEST STOCKTON, Aug. 24.—(UP)—College of Pacific campus today awaited arrival of Amos Alonzo Stagg, "grand old man" of football, who is en route here from Chicago to start his first season as head coach.

While Helen Jacobs plays tennis in shorts and the world sports wilted soldiers, the young men below will don heavy football tops tonight and peering for the dear old East against Howard Jones' Pacific Coast gridlers. The quartet, probable starting backfield for the East in the all-star game at Chicago, includes Roy Horstmann, Purdue; Don Zimmerman, Tulane; "Pug" Rentner, Northwestern, and Gil Berry, Illinois.

GIANTS MUST HOE LONG ROW

New York Plays 31 of 43 Games With Strong Rivals

SCHEDULE IN BRAVES' FAVOR

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(UP)—New York City (ahh! what a bed-lam) has a reputation for doing things on a very magnitudinous scale. Tigertown-on-the-Hudson goes whole hawg, to borrow an apt Persian phrase, on almost anything it or Grover Whalen undertakes.

It has red and green lights running every which way, and Mayor John Patrick O'Brien doing the same thing; maybe for keeps. This puts us squarely up against the baseball situation. Even in the National game Tigertown didn't fail, furnishing the two big upsets of the major league season.

In the pre-season forecasts the Yankees, 1932 champions and blessed with more power than Niagara Falls at high tide, were unanimous choice to defeat, with plenty to spare. And the Giants, robbed of eighth place last season by a series of bad breaks, were assigned to the bottom of the pile.

So what? So take a look at the standings. The Yankees, showing about as much power as a lightning bug in a flannel night-shirt, are floundering behind the Senators, apparently out of the race.

CLEVELAND'S SPURT BOOST FOR JOHNSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(UP)—No pennant will float over Cleveland's new municipal stadium this season, but the Indians have an excellent chance of finishing the American league race in third place, one notch above the position they occupied the past three seasons.

Despite the dismal slump of Wes Ferrell, ace pitcher, the Indians recently played excellent baseball under their new manager, Walter Johnson. On their latest spurt, they won eight of nine starts, outpitching the opposition 105 to 89 safeties and scoring 66 runs to opponent's 30.

Because they are 9 1-2 games behind the second-place New York Yankees and 17 1-2 behind first-place Washington, they have little chance of finishing above third.

WORK ON BOWL GRID AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Twenty-two R. F. C. workers employed in the task of sodding the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl have completed 3200 square feet of turf and are progressing more rapidly than was anticipated, City Engineer J. L. McBride said today.

Bermuda grass is being cut from a large field near Costa Mesa by 16 men, while six workers are laying the strips on the floor of the Bowl. The sod is being cut into strips 5 feet long, 18 inches wide and 3 inches thick. After it has started growing on the field, it will be rolled smooth.

Work has started on the north end of the field and will continue until only the baseball playing field is left.

Women's National Tennis Postponed FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 24.—(UP)—With rain forecast again today, the most extended Women's National tennis championships in history was to be delayed again until tomorrow, making it an even week of postponements for the remaining semi-finals.

JONES SELECTS SEVEN EX-S. C. AGES TO START

BY JOHN C. HOFFMAN
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—(INS)—An All-American football production will be played before 30,000 or more spectators at Soldier field tonight when grid stars enlisted from the central states do battle with the team from the far west.

"California against the world" was the byword as Coach Howard Jones of Southern California named seven Trojan aces and two University of California alumni for his starting lineup.

Dick Hanley's Eastern team, reading like a page torn from the All-American records of the past three years, will be led on the field by Capt. Wesley Fesler, Ohio State's star end for three years. The intersectional battle will be a match between the Southern California football system of Jones which has won two National championships and the double wingback Warner system favored by Hanley.

Something of a precedent will be established when the young men who will do or die for Dear Old World's Fair glare at each other under the candlelight. They are wondering why the collegiate football season can't start in August, or at least early in September.

Hanley, the Northwestern coach who is doing the thinking for the East team, says it could be done, although he does not commit himself on the advisability of the plan. The coaches would be willing. It would put them on the sports pages earlier and keep them there longer.

Another matter to come up for deep study tonight will be the customer's answer to what would happen if a trio of ball carriers such as Jack Manders of Minnesota, "Pug" Rentner of Northwestern, and Roy Horstmann of Purdue were augmented by the sagacity of Harry Newman, the wizard of Michigan. For the rah-rah boys, no more intriguing spectacle could better suffice to suit them than the presence on the same team of Fesler, "Pretty Boy" Gil Berry, the Illinois hall-toter, Milton Summerfelt, the Army tackle, and Joe Kurth, the Notre Dame man.

TANFORAN REPORTED SOLD FOR $203,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Sporting circles buzzed today with the report that the Tanforan race track has been sold for $203,000.

J. W. Marchbank, president of the Pacific Coast Breeders' association and owner of the track, was unavailable for comment.

It was also reported that a new holding company was completing plans to operate two large tracks, one in Los Angeles and one in San Francisco.

Carlton Burke, chairman of the California racing commission, vacationing in Chicago, was expected to return to the Pacific Coast next week. It was believed he would be able to definitely clear up reports concerning the contemplated construction of the two new tracks and also the reported sale of Tanforan.

HOFFMAN'S BAG FIRST GAME OF CITY PLAYOFFS

Hoffman's Rebottomery was well on its way today toward the undisputed championship of the Santa Ana City night baseball league, after defeating the Santa Ana Elks, 11-7, at the Bowl last night.

Never headed, the second-half breadwinners definitely entitled themselves to the rank of favorites. The Rebottomers scored four times in the first inning and piled up a lead that at one time soared to 11-4. A three-run rally in the ninth brought the Elks closer.

Lloyd Banks, league secretary, announced that the second game of the two-out-of-three playoff series would be held at the Bowl next Wednesday night instead of Monday. The third, if necessary, is scheduled Friday-week.

Les Pangle and Sullivan, the pitchers, were shelled rather heavily, but both went the distance. Pangle was spotted to a four-run edge in the opening inning when Webb and Urbine singled, Harold Pangle and Beaver doubled and Herman singled. Beaver, Hoffman's second sacker, sprained his ankle sliding to third a couple of rounds later and had to leave the contest. He may not be available for the second game of the series.

The Elks crept up to 4-3 in the third when Daley and Ojeda walked and Don Smith contributed a timely home run, but Hoffman's retallied in the fourth with a pair of runs on doubles by Herman and Bell, Bell's fly and Webb's infield out. Another rally produced three more runs in the sixth, a result of Garlock's triple, Bell's single, Webb's single and Clark's double. In the eighth, an error on L. Pangle, Webb's single, wild pitches and H. Pangle's single ran the score up two higher.

Camp's walk, a wild pitch, Ojeda's out and Acker's life on an error added a run to the Elks total in the seventh. The B. P. O. E. closed in the ninth with a three-run attack. Camp and Ojeda lacing singles and Acker scoring them with a triple. A wild pitch tallied Acker.

The box score:

Mays Race Winner Despite Collision

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Rex Mays surmounted the handicap of a minor collision to breeze home a winner in the 50-lap feature.

Ascot Legion speedway last night. Mays was forced into the fence by Gordon, a co-favorite, after the latter's car had spun around in making a turn. Gordon too backed away and resumed the race, finishing second.

HOLD INTERVIEWS IN KREG OFFICE

Tom Westwood, representing the Cal-Baden Sales company, distributors of Cal-Baden Mineral water, is interviewing Orange county men each afternoon this week in the office of KREG. Westwood is going to place six men in Orange county as agents for the famous mineral water.

Westwood returned from Baden-Baden, Germany, several months ago, bringing with him the endorsement of Cal-Baden water, signed by Dr. Bohler, the head of the government department for research on springs.

The Cal-Baden Sales company present a dinner hour program over KREG at 5:45 each night except Tuesday.

MUSICAL MERCHANT HAS UNIQUE HOBBY

Jerry Hall, the Musical Merchant, who presents a program each Thursday night at 7:15 has a peculiar hobby. Mr. Hall being interested in odd stories about tires, and about accidents caused by tire failures. If you are interested in reading about odd accidents, ask Mr. Hall to show you his scrap book some day, that's his hobby. He collects news items from all over the world regarding strange accidents.

Mr. Hall will present a group of ballads on his program this evening, most of them being request numbers.

BOSTON DIRECTORY LARGER

BOSTON (UP)—The 1933 Boston city directory, just off the press, is 80 pages fatter than last year's. The principal reason is that this year the given names of wives are bracketed along with the names of husbands.

KREG NOTES

At 6:15 this evening an announcement will be made by The Tienan Typewriter company, of special interest to students, who will be returning to their studies shortly.

Marilyn Crawford, who conducts the "Happiness Exchange," broadcast daily at 9:30 a. m., reports that while quite a number of people have sent in poems and stories to be read on her program, she has plenty of time for more. So if you have a poem or a short story that you think others would enjoy, just mail it to the "Happiness Exchange" in care of this station.

Tonight is a big night on the Spanish program. Senor Laurent, director of this hour, is going to present a group of special talent between 9 and 10:30 this evening. If you want to see a crowd of people, come up to the studio tonight, between 9 and 10:30.

At 9:30 each evening Kay White is offering to give a very useful gift to any woman who writes to her in care of this station. It might pay you to listen in at that time.

How Babe Ruth, heckled by players in the opponents' dugout stepped up to the plate, pointed to a section of the bleachers and then proceeded to hit a home-run exactly where he had indicated, will be the high spot of Ted Husing's dramatization of the 1933 world series on his program with Leon Belasco's orchestra, Barbara Maurel and the Hummingbirds, 6:30-6:45 tonight over KHI.

Taking a firm but premature grasp on the sports situation, football will step into the air lanes when the National Broadcasting company offers the closing periods of the East-West All-Star Grid Classic from Soldiers' Field, Chicago, at 7:30 tonight over an NBC network including KYA and KDYL.

Concert favorites ranging from the idyllic "Pastorale" and "Pastorale Overture" by Von Suppe to the vividly realistic "1812 Overture" by Tchaikovsky, will be played under Alfred Herts' baton during the Standard Symphony Hour over an NBC network including KFI from 8 to 9 tonight. Seldom-heard compositions by Liszt and Mozart are included with more familiar works of Schubert, Wolf-Ferrari and Ippolitov-Ivanov on the program.

FRIDAY

"The Versatile Sponge Cake," a talk on the many different ways in which this type of cake can be used, will be Julia Lee Wright's contribution to the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau program in the Woman's Magazine of the Air over an NBC network including KFI at 10:30 a. m. Friday.

"A Planned Future for 120 Million People," one of the phases of the Recovery Act, will be discussed by Roscoe C. Edlund and Charles E. Stuart during the broadcast over an NBC network including KFI at 8:15 p. m. Friday. Edlund is president of the Association of Trade Association Executives and manager of the Association of American Soap and Glycerine Producers, Inc.

HOME STUDY TO BE CONDUCTED BY UNIVERSITY

Hundreds of former high school students in the state are offered the opportunity of university study at a small fee under the guidance of the University of California Extension division.

Prof. Leon J. Richardson, in a statewide message to students unable to continue their formal education, notified them of plans formulated by the University Extension division whereby instruction will be offered "to all those who can profit by it."

His message in part follows: "Hundreds of high school students and graduates qualified to pursue further studies find themselves unable to attend a university. In former days they would have been shut out from the advantages they seek. Today the university is able to bring its resources to the very door of the student."

"About 270 courses are to be conducted. Most of them give instruction and training equivalent to that of regular university classes, but there are also more elementary courses so planned both in subject matter and method of study as to appeal to adults who need further preparation before undertaking work of university grade. In fact, through the wide range of the University of California correspondence instruction, an opportunity for continuous development is given to nearly every person who will devote part of his spare time to reading and study."

Individuals who wish detailed information about correspondence study are requested to write to the Extension division, University of California, Berkeley.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR EQUIPMENT LOSS

Charging that the defendants lost his diving equipment on the bottom of the ocean off Dana Point, Donald A. McPherson, deep sea diver, has filed suit in superior court for $3000 for loss of his equipment and for $5000 in damages against Frank Smith and Steve Smith of the Balboa Boat shop.

McPherson claims that in April, 1932, he entered into an agreement with the Smith brothers, as proprietors of the boat company, to store his diving gear in their shop, to pay them 15 per cent of any profits he made when using the equipment and to rent boats from them for diving purposes.

He was informed and believes, he claimed, that in December, 1932, the defendants rented his diving outfit without his consent. He also charges that in February, 1933, to perform a diving contract, he went to the place where his equipment had been stored and found it gone. He charged that Frank Smith had told him the diving gear was "on the bottom of the ocean" and had been lost when a boat capsized off Dana Point.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By George Durne

UPPER-CUTS

Giants of industry and labor are staging what is billed as a "battle to the death" here in Washington.

If you could look at the slips already in the referee's hand you might be inspired to lay a ring-side bet labor gets the nod. But don't wager on a knockout. The referee has just got tired of the continued sparring. He has already tapped industry lightly on the chin by way of entertaining the crowd and is about to raise labor's hand in token of victory for this bout.

Labor more or less has brought along its own referee. There has been an evolution of top men in the National Recovery Administration that leaves supporters of the union movement quite definitely in the saddle.

Administrator Hugh Johnson originally picked his deputies from among his own close business friends. He explained he wanted men around him for the Herculean task of coding industry "who speak my language."

Four men now have the inside track from all appearances. They are Donald Richberg, general counsel, who was counsel for the Railway Labor Executives' Association; Edward F. McGrady, Assistant for Labor, who was national legislative representative for the A. F. of L.; Dr. Leo Wolman, chairman of the Labor Advisory Board, long connected with the organized labor movement, and Deputy Administrator K. M. Simpson.

Simpson, the only non-union man, is a close friend of Richberg's. Simpson has been handling all of the major industrial code hearings.

BLOCKED

All the feinting and left-jabbing industry can do will fail to break down one cardinal defense that labor has.

This is the clause in NIRA that gives the employee the right to organize as he chooses for the purpose of collective bargaining—appointing what representatives he pleases for such bargaining. Johnson and his aides have been telling irritated industrialists over and over that Congress, representing all the people, put this clause in the Act.

Therefore it must go into all codes without stultifying reservations.

Organized labor still has an ace in the hole to play against such recalcitrant industries as steel and the automotive.

The hidden card is the industrial union. Since NRA started operating John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has demonstrated how effective it can be.

UMW had about 300,000 members before the Blue Eagle was invented. Lewis has added 340,000 miners to his rolls—all from heretofore non-union fields.

UNIONIZING

You may expect to see a terrific drive shortly to organize the steel and automobile industries just as the coal fields now are.

Efforts by the American Federation of Labor to get steel and auto workers into trade unions thus far have NOT met with much success. The industries themselves are too well organized. Company unions still are supreme.

Disinterested labor leaders are busy selling President William Green, A. F. of L., the idea a vertical union is the only solution to the battle with these industrial giants.

They point out that where an industry is specialized and organized like steel and the automotive, the employees should be blanketed into one union prepared to fight for all types of labor therein engaged.

They argue that no headway can be made through trade unions. Too many trades are employed by the steel and auto interests.

Organization technique for the industrial union will be this:

First, a plant union will be formed and apply to the A. F. of L. for a charter. Then another and another. After enough have been built up they will be merged into a single unit like the United Mine Workers.

HUMPHREY

Some time back the National Whirligig predicted a reorganization of the Federal Trade Commission with William E. Humphrey, Republican member from Oregon, due to go.

The prediction holds. It may be a month or so before Humphrey retires but he is on his way out.

Humphrey was a member of Congress before Calvin Coolidge appointed him to the Trade Commission in 1925. All in all he has been a public servant for many years. It possibly will take him a little while to place himself in private business. This factor may well be the determining one in President Roosevelt's delay in reorganizing the Commission.

You may remember that administration of the Securities Act—designed to protect us lambs from the wolves of Wall Street—was the incentive for wanting to put new blood into F. T. C.

It is still quite probable that Mr. Roosevelt will designate by executive order a man outside the Commission to administer this law requiring full information for the public about all securities sold in interstate commerce.

CHARLIE

A new technique in handling Federal publicity has been developed by Charlie Michelson, Democratic chief press agent who has been trouble-shooting for the administration all the way between London and our most western borders.

Charlie at present is overseeing the Blue Eagle daily flights.

At a recent press conference with General Hugh Johnson he took up an unobtrusive place on the fringe of the crowd of reporters. Johnson, be it known, is a most outspoken man. When questioning got hot this time and the General was about to spill some delicate piece of information, Michelson raised his hand. Miss Frances Robinson, Johnson's energetic secretary, each time caught the signal and nudged her chief.

The Recovery Administrator thereupon for the first time spoke these words "off the record."

NEW YORK
By James McMullen

DILEMMA

Utilities are between the devil and the deep blue sea on publicity policy.

There is plenty of second-guessing on the inside about what they might have done and didn't. One school of thought holds they should have rushed to sign the blanket code as soon as it was offered and left the details to be worked out later. That way they would have registered as patriotic supporters of the President. Others maintain they should have gone to General Johnson in the beginning and sold him the idea that they could not comply with code conditions because of the rate and tax situation. "The railroads were exempted and nobody is kicking."

Then they could have ducked the additional cost which is so much net loss. But they didn't think of either until too late. Now they are stuck with a code and people think they were dragged into it so they get no credit. They lose both ways.

Even at this late date some groups are discussing publicity to inform the public that they are victims of a raw deal. The trouble is if money is spent for advertising someone is sure to rise and inquire whose money they are spending. If they keep quiet people assume they are guilty as charged of every accusation that comes their way. They're damned if they do and damned if they don't.

One company has tackled the problem by going straight to its consumers. It has about 300,000. So far it has reached about 15,000 at group meetings in various towns and finds that much less than 1 per cent have a kick to register. They hope to prove to public service commissions that their customers are happy and there isn't much sense to rate reductions.

COSTS

The utilities statisticians are doing heavy figuring to find out just what they are in for under the new regime.

They figure roughly that wage costs under the code will rise about 10 per cent, which means on the average about 1 1/2 to 2 per cent of total gross revenues. Added cost of materials because of codes in other industries will equal about 2 per cent more of gross. The 3 per cent electric consumption tax will come to about 2 per cent of all utility revenue. The capital tax adds 1 per cent more.

All this totals up to roughly 7 per cent of their entire income which they didn't have to pay a year ago. Then there are new special utility taxes in many states, such as the generating tax in South Carolina.

The 7 per cent on gross will make an awful dent in the financial position of several groups. In some cases the preferred stock will be under water and in others even the funded debt.

FRIENDLY

This column recently remarked that the Connecticut public service commission was friendly to the utilities of that state.

The Connecticut Commission has now announced that the companies under its supervision may pass along to their customers the extra cost of subscribing to codes. That seems friendly enough.

COAL

The Pennsylvania mines have squawked loudest of all in protests that they can't stand higher wages. But experts say that freight rates have done even more to keep them sunk.

The Pennsylvania Railroad charges higher rates for carrying coal than the Chesapeake & Ohio or the Norfolk & Western. It is actually cheaper to ship coal from West Virginia to Norfolk by rail and thence to Boston by barge

The Pennsylvania Railroad is ton from Pennsylvania. The Pennsylvania mines have lost most of their business in eastern New England and have also lost ground in Ohio.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is not interested in granting lower rates. It can't afford to. The road figures that would simply cut into the business of Norfolk & Western (which it controls) without doing itself any good.

So the Pennsylvania mines seem to be pretty thoroughly out of luck.

BROADMINDED

Friends of the President's mother are remarking her freedom from political prejudice. She has bought Lincoln cars regularly, unperturbed by Ford's antagonism to her son during his campaign, and has recently ordered a new one.

The Lincoln company meanwhile has designed a new limousine especially for the President with special gadgets to make the extra seats more adaptable to his physical handicap. They plan to present this car to him with their compliments, but it is doubted that he will accept it.

CHRISTENING

An interesting function which escaped the Press was the recent christening of the infant son of Elliott Roosevelt and his former wife, Elizabeth Donner. The ceremony took place at the same church in Hyde Park where his father and paternal grandfather were christened. The child was named William Donner Roosevelt. His father of course was not present. It was Mrs. James Roosevelt's idea—the baby's great-grandmother.

SIDELIGHTS

Competent New York sources hear that 500 strikers are awaiting settlement in Secretary Perkins' office. . . . It seems enough. . . . One New York department store has signs up saying it will not fly the Eagle until it has earned it by complying with the code.

They say certain other stores should do likewise. . . . An editor writes, "I hope the Blue Hawk is helping you to soar not merely taking you for a ride." . . . Don't we all? . . . The French are het up about the Mona Lisa again. . . . Suspicion has been renewed that the painting in the Louvre is not the original. . . . International police are checking up. Large Attendance At Ceremony Honoring War Hero

PAY TRIBUTE TO JACK FISHER AT PARK PROGRAM

The dedication ceremonies at Jack Fisher park last evening were largely attended and many distinguished guests were present including members of the city council, board of supervisors, veterans' organizations and other civic bodies, to do honor to one of the most outstanding heroes of the World War, Corporal Jack M. Fisher, for whom the park was named.

Besides the many distinguished guests who were present the occasion was especially honored by the presence of the immediate family of Jack Fisher, as follows: Mrs. Jack Fisher, his widow; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fisher; a sister, Lydia M. Fisher and a brother, Lee A. Fisher. Mrs. Jack Fisher, on behalf of herself and the other members of "Jack's" immediate family made a most touching response.

In the absence of Commander Harry S. Pickard, who is on his vacation, the dedicatory services were opened by Senior Vice Commander Van Leonard Brown of the Jack Fisher Chapter D. A. V., which was in charge of the program, who introduced the Rev. J. W. Hatter who delivered the invocation, which was followed by the introduction of J. L. McBride, city engineer, who accepted as master of ceremonies and who had a large part in the beautifying of the park.

Deeds Reviewed
Postmaster Terry E. Stephenson, a member of the citizens' committee, spoke on the subject "Naming a Park," and brought out the appropriateness of the name Jack Fisher park, and related many intimate and touching war time incidents which never before have been given publicity and which were the outgrowth of a close friendship between Jack and the speaker. Stephenson's narrative added much value to the known history of Jack's heroism, which Jack so sparingly talked about during his lifetime. He also, in behalf of Jack Fisher chapter No. 23, D. A. V., thanked the city officials in Santa Ana, and the county board of supervisors for such part each had.

Mayor Paul B. Witmer on behalf of the city of Santa Ana, and W. C. Jerome on behalf of the board of supervisors made able and appropriate responses.

Attorney Charles D. Swanner, of Santa Ana, was next introduced and spoke feelingly of "Jack Fisher the Soldier," having been associated with him during the early portion of the war. He brought out those qualities which later not only brought him high

Band To Play Composition By Conductor

The program for tonight's concert under direction of James E. Son, by the Santa Ana Municipal band at 7:30 o'clock in Birch park follows:

March, "The Orange Empire" (J. E. Son); Overture, "Orpheus" (Offenbach); (a) French horn solo "Serenade" (Toselli); Bert Colville; (b) French horn trio "Let the Hills Resound With Song" (Richards) Messrs Colville, German, Hanson; selection "Maritana" (Wallace); medley waltz "Symposia" (Baudin); "Nola" (Felix Arndt); march "The Nutcracker Suite" (Tchaikovsky); March "Sempere Fidelis" (Souza).

honors but resulted in his supreme sacrifice.

Many Medals
Among the various battles in which Jack Fisher saw service were Verdun and Arras. Jack was decorated with the highest honors that the French republic and many other countries could bestow, among them being the French Croix de Guerre with 12 palms, each one being a separate citation for bravery.

J. F. Burke talked about "Jack Fisher, the Citizen," showing the splendid courage and ability with which he faced the few remaining years given him to live, and with heart-felt words painted the deep hold Jack had on the community. He showed how Jack's heroism continued in his every day life and that until his dying hour he remained on duty, smiling and helpful to those about him.

John E. Burke, state commander of the D. A. V. W. W. made a few appropriate remarks in appreciation of the honor that comes to the D. A. V. W. W., in naming a park after one of its outstanding heroes.

Following the program many of those present participated in a pot luck supper in the new park, which is located at North Flower street and Santiago creek.

4-H LEADERS HOLD CONFERENCE SOON

The first meeting of Orange county 4-H leaders since summer vacation began will be held in the Benson walnut house, Katella avenue east of Euclid, at 7:30 p. m., August 28. Consideration of the coming activities of the 4-H clubs will occupy the major portion of the program.

Principal future activities are the annual state 4-H convention, which is to be held at the University farm near Davis, September 7, 8 and 9, and which will include a trip to the state fair at Sacramento; 4-H day at the Los Angeles County fair, September 16; the Alamitos Community fair, September 5, at the Alamitos Friends church. There is a possibility of an Orange County Junior fair in the near future.

The business session will be followed by a recreational program and refreshments. All leaders and others interested in 4-H club work are invited to attend, according to Eric E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor, in charge of 4-H club work in Orange county.

TIME FOR AIR MAIL CLOSING IS EXTENDED
Air mail left at the Santa Ana post office as late as 8:45 o'clock every night will be sent to Eastern points on the late night planes from now on. It was announced today by L. F. Harvey, superintendent of mails at the local post office.

The new schedule was arranged as a result of an announcement that Transcontinental and Western Air plans to slash from 40 to 50 minutes off the coast-to-coast flying time for three of its speediest flights, and will add mail to the cargo of two crack night flights which, until now, have carried only passengers and express.

The two night transcontinental mail-and-express flights will eliminate all stops between Los Angeles and Kansas City except Albuquerque which allows the west-bound plane to reach Los Angeles at 6:20 a. m., 40 minutes earlier than in the past, and the east-bound plane will depart at 11 p. m., 45 minutes later than has been the rule.

CITY MAY BE UNABLE TO GET L. A. POLICE RADIO SERVICE; SEEK SUPPORT OF COUNTY PLAN

Possible refusal of Santa Ana's request for police broadcasting service from the Los Angeles police station, and Sheriff Logan Jackson's announcement that he would seek endorsement of a county police radio system at the meeting tonight of the Orange County League of Municipalities in Laguna Beach, were the latest developments in the campaign to secure a police radio system for Orange county.

City Auditor Lloyd Banks, in conference with Los Angeles police officials, has been unofficially notified that so many cities have requested service from Los Angeles that no more requests will be granted. In addition, Long Beach is understood to have made application for a complete broadcasting service and if granted, will more than fill the schedule of the metropolitan station.

It is possible, it was learned here today, that if the Long Beach request is approved, several cities now getting the Los Angeles service, will be dropped. Since Fullerton, Brea, La Habra and the Orange county fruit patrol are now on the circuit, the decision is awaited with interest in the county.

In order to get an official ruling from Chief of Police James Davis of Los Angeles, Chief Floyd Howard has written an application for service and an answer is expected momentarily. Purchase of two radio receivers for police cars ordered by the city council has been temporarily held up awaiting final word from Los Angeles.

Sheriff Jackson will go before the city officials of the county tonight at Laguna Beach and ask endorsement of a county plan. If enough of the larger communities are willing to cooperate in using the new service, it is anticipated that the board of supervisors will take definite action at the next meeting on Tuesday.

The Santa Ana city council has indicated that if the county does not proceed immediately with the installation of a broadcasting system, a station will be built here by the police department. It is understood that the federal radio commission will only recognize one station in any section and that if Santa Ana builds a set first, the county will be unable to build another. In such case, Santa Ana has unofficially said that there would be no objection to expanding the city system into a county service.

While Banks was visiting and inspecting the Los Angeles studio, he learned that on calls to other cities where a specific police car is given a message, there is a charge of 15 cents. Where a general message is given to a larger section, or to a group of cars, there is no charge made.

PLAYERS GIVEN TWO CHANCES IN CARD TOURNEY

Players in KREG's Amateur Contract Bridge tournament will be given two opportunities to qualify for the finals, according to an announcement today by studio officials.

Teams entered in the tournament that fail to qualify for the finals in their first elimination round will be permitted to play in a second elimination match. This ruling was made at the request of many of the tournament entries and in fairness to all players.

Elimination rounds will be played in three cities. The first round will be played next Tuesday night in Santa Ana. On Wednesday the second round will be played in Fullerton and the third will be played in Laguna Beach on Thursday night.

According to studio officials the tournament has exceeded even their expectations as a popular event. Entries have been received from all sections of the county and many amateur players who have not already officially filed their entry blanks have signified their intention of doing so. Officials of the studio, in charge of the tournament urged those players who have not already filed their entries to do so immediately as the closing date is rapidly approaching.

The new law specifically states that where the value of an article is given, such value must be the current retail price of the article in the various retail establishments of the trade territory in which said advertisement is run.

"Another feature of the law is the provision that where a comparative former price is shown, that such former price must be the average former price of such article in that retail trade territory within the last 90 days. If the comparison is of older date, the specific date must be shown. In other words, if a suit of clothes is advertised at $25, formerly $50, such advertisement must specifically say in 1929 or whatever the date was when the suit sold for $50.

"The law is going to do much to curb some of the unethical advertising going on at the present time, especially along the line of comparative prices."

HEALTH OFFICER WARNS AGAINST BLACK SPIDERS
A warning to residents of Orange county to be on the watch for the poisonous black widow spiders was issued today by the Orange county health department through Dr. E. L. Russell, assistant health officer.

Dr. Russell pointed out that this is the season for the poisonous spiders, which have been reported to be numerous at this time throughout various sections of the county. Several severe cases of blood poisoning have been reported from persons bitten by the spiders.

The spiders can be identified easily by a red marking on their abdomens, which is in the shape of an hour glass. The spiders were named "black widows" because of their habit of eating their mates.

S. A. Youth Given Internal Revenue Post At Bay City

Lyle Cook, 24, Santa Ana Junior college graduate in 1927, has been appointed deputy collector of internal revenue for the first district of California, with headquarters in San Francisco, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Alta R. Cook, of 1072 1-2 West Fourth street in Santa Ana.

The appointment was made by the commissioner of internal revenue at Washington.

The Santa Ana boy received his diploma from high school in 1925, and the following September entered the junior college, where he served as president of the student honor society. Cook was awarded his A. B. degree from Stanford in 1929, attended law school at Palo Alto, then transferred to Berkeley, where he received his LL.B. degree from the University of California last May.

Cook was admitted to the bar while at California, and has been practicing law in Oakland, where he is now affiliated with the Legal Aid Society of Alameda county. During his last year in law school he served as president of California chapter, Gamma Eta Gamma, legal fraternity.

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 24.—Three deer were brought in Tuesday night by a party composed of R. E. Larter, Dr. Russell I. Johnson and Robert Hazard, each of whom killed one; Bud Hare, Fred Mallett, Gifford Giles and J. Ostrander.

Two other local hunters, William Hannagan and Chester Campbell, who also went to the Thomas Mountain district, were not successful.

H. H. Cotton, chairman of the public works program of California and Monroe Butler, state member of the Home Owners' corporation, have been invited to attend the meeting.

COMMITTEES FOR LABOR DAY EVENT NAMED

Appointment of committees to take charge of the second annual Labor Day picnic to be held in Irvine park on September 4, sponsored by the Orange County Democratic club and the Orange County Labor Council, was announced today.

James L. Davis is general chairman of the annual event and announced the appointment of his committees as follows: Curtis Markel, finance; J. Ogden Markel, entertainment; Frank Harwood, sports; Robert Ramsley and A. D. Comito, publicity and H. M. Secrest and F. J. Lincoln, speakers.

A comprehensive program of speeches, entertainment and sports is being arranged for the annual picnic. An attempt is being made to get well known speakers to talk on the NRA and on the Home Owners' Loan corporation program.

A large crowd is anticipated, in view of the wide interest in the event last year. Announcement as to who will be the speakers will be made next week, it was stated.

A. W. Hoch, Los Angeles, president of the State Federation of Labor and members of the regional advisory board of the NRA, has accepted an invitation to address the Labor day meeting. Secrest said today.

H. H. Cotton, chairman of the public works program of California and Monroe Butler, state member of the Home Owners' corporation, have been invited to attend the meeting.

GENERAL JUMBOS

are Easy to Steer

How can such a big tire steer so easily? The right hand cross section below shows why. The Jumbo is wide at the rim and tapers to a narrow tread—no wider than a regular balloon. It is radically different from the narrow-rim, wide-tread enlarged balloons known as "doughnut" tires. The Jumbo's patented design eliminates sideway and shimmy—gives stability and safety impossible with "doughnut" tires. There is no other tire like it. A ride will show the big difference.

Luncheon Guests Enjoy Artistic Arrangement Of Flowers

Recent bridge luncheon guests of Mrs. John Fouch, 1912 North Broadway, especially admired the effect given her pretty home by the flowers employed in its decoration. These were varied in color and form, ranging from the feathery plumes of asters to the formal quaintness of jewel-tinted zinnias.

But especially lovely were the luncheon table appointments for in them she maintained a definite blue and yellow color scheme, combining bachelor buttons and pom-pom dahlias in her flowers, and using candy cups of original design, favors and place cards in the same pretty hues.

An elaborate four-course menu was served and in the succeeding interval while tables were being placed for bridge, guests heard with pleasure, a succession of brilliant piano solos played by Mrs. Christa Lambert of Orange. Mrs. Lambert later demonstrated an equal skill at bridge, her high score winning for her the fascinating set of imported rummy cards awarded by the hostess, Mrs. Burt Wing with second high score, was awarded a colorful linen sports handkerchief.

Before the afternoon came to a close, guests had the pleasure of greeting the two small sons of the home, Master John Fouch Jr., and his baby brother, Edward.

Enjoying this interesting party with the hostess were Mrs. Henry Fouch of Long Beach, a recent bride; Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. W. C. Leitchfuss, Mrs. Burt Wing, and Mrs. Christine Lambert of Orange, with the latter's sister and houseguest, Miss Charlotte Eck of Ohio; Mrs. William Maag, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Roy Kreuger, Mrs. Rose Richards and Mrs. F. I. T. U. Auxiliary And Families Join In Garden Supper

It was in the tree-shaded garden of the W. H. Fields home at 2408 Valencia street, that the Women's auxiliary to Santa Ana Typographical Union entertained husbands and families at a covered dish dinner on Tuesday evening, preceding an evening of cards.

Tables were arranged in an L form to accommodate the merry picnicers as they enjoyed a succession of appetizing dishes. The garden with its shrubbery and many flowers, was brightly lighted for the party, and guests were reluctant to leave its charms for the card tables placed within the home.

Bridge, pinocle and cootie were about equal in favor among the players, who spent a lively evening at the games, played informally without prizes. Before departure, auxiliary members were informed that their next business meeting would be with Mrs. J. W. Jones in her home on the Santa Ana-Anaheim boulevard, on Tuesday evening, September 12, at 7:30 o'clock.

Those present at the dinner meeting were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fisher with their daughter, Betty Jane Johnson, and their guests, Mrs. Sawyer and daughter Jean; Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence and daughters, Jeanne and Eleanor; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence's mother, Mrs. J. A. Cubley of Corona; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Frisby, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brakeman, Mr. and Mrs. George Duke, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Fields and daughter Margaret and Mr. Fields' mother, Mrs. Katherine Fields of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Sutton of Laguna Beach, and Mrs. Sutton's mother, Mrs. C. J. Buntz, and Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Shidder and daughters, Elizabeth and Jacqueline.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry E. Lewis of Main street, Tustin, have been entertaining Judge and Mrs. Clifford L. Hilton of Saint Paul, Minn., cousins of Mrs. Lewis. Judge Hilton is on the state supreme bench in Minnesota. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have been showing them the interesting points of the Southland and the groves and ranches of Orange county, since their arrival August 13 at Los Angeles harbor after the canal trip from New York. They will sail Monday for San Francisco and motor through the Yosemite before returning to St. Paul by the Canadian Rockies.

Announcements

Friendly Circle class members of First M. E. church today were reminded of their covered dish supper to be held tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock in the newly dedicated Jack Fisher park, Flower and Santiago streets.

Damascus White Shrine will hold its regular meeting tomorrow night in Masonic temple at 7:30 o'clock in the form of a birthday party for all members whose birthdays occur in August. Card playing will follow. Stella Maude Ryan, worthy high priestess, and Henry Meyer, watchman of shepherds, will be in charge.

Native Daughters of Golden West will hold its regular meeting Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Knights of Pythias hall. All members are requested to attend.

The Missionary society of Spurgeon Memorial church will hold a tea tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church parlors. Mrs. C. T. Palmer, Mrs. Max Temple and Mrs. C. C. Hinton will be hostesses for the affair. All women of the church are urged to attend.

COPPER ROOFS USED

MIAMI, Ariz.—(UP)—Roofs of copper sheeting are being built here, formerly the site of some of the state's largest copper producing mines. The sheets are said to be as durable as any other roofing material.

FALSE TEETH

Can Not Embarrass

Most wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their teeth dropped or slipped at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETECH on your plates. Makes false teeth stay in place and feel comfortable. Sweetens breath. Get PASTETECH at any good drug store.—Adv.

YOU and your Friends

Following the recent return of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Robinson and small daughter, Jeanne Louise, 1802 Spurgeon street, from a vacation trip up the Redwood Highway to Lane's Redwood Flats near Eureka, little Miss Jeanne went to Balboa where she is spending the week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Robinson, at Balboa for the summer.

Mrs. Joseph Beatty of Fremont, Neb., is here for a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Henry Walters, 1605 East Fourth street. On her departure September 1 for her home, she will be accompanied by Mrs. Walters and the two will proceed directly to Chicago and a visit to the exposition before returning to Fremont. Mrs. Walters also will visit in Missouri and will be joined later by her sister, Mrs. Walters, and their return to Santa Ana early in November. During Mrs. Beatty's California stay, her sister is showing her many places of interest, including Hollywood, San Diego, and the many beautiful drives of Orange county.

Frank Baltzel of San Francisco was a guest Tuesday of his brother-in-law, Dr. O. A. Kelsey, 1016 West Fourth street. Mrs. Baltzel, a sister of Dr. Kelsey, is Dr. Nettie Benson Baltzel, an osteopathic physician who prior to their recent arrival in San Francisco maintained offices in Portland, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry E. Lewis of Main street, Tustin, have been entertaining Judge and Mrs. Clifford L. Hilton of Saint Paul, Minn., cousins of Mrs. Lewis. Judge Hilton is on the state supreme bench in Minnesota. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have been showing them the interesting points of the Southland and the groves and ranches of Orange county, since their arrival August 13 at Los Angeles harbor after the canal trip from New York. They will sail Monday for San Francisco and motor through the Yosemite before returning to St. Paul by the Canadian Rockies.

Arthur C. Van Brooklin, who holds an important government post at Balboa in the Canal Zone, arrived Tuesday to join Mrs. Van Brooklin and their daughter, Miss Margaret Van Brooklin, in the home of Mrs. Van Brooklin's mother, Mrs. W. M. Belding, where they will enjoy an extended visit before their arrival in the Canal Zone. Automobile trips to the Yosemite and perhaps other national parks, occupy prominent place on the amusement program to be put into effect.

Mrs. Emma Barber, who has been spending the summer with her mother and sisters, Mrs. Carrie Van Nocker and Mrs. Frank Feighner, 1016 West Fourth street, left yesterday for the Santa Fe, for a two months' visit with relatives in Kinsley, Kans. Returning in November, Mrs. Barber expects to divide her time between Santa Ana and Long Beach, her former home.

C. C. Kemper and son, Conley, 704 South Barton street, have returned from Arkansas where Mr. Kemper visited his father to be joined a few days later by Conley Kemper who had preceded his father east, going to Kansas and then on to Chicago for the fair to return to Arkansas to meet his father. During their absence Mrs. Kemper has been visiting in Long Beach.

Mrs. Nell D. Winslow, 502 East Pine street, has been spending several weeks in Colton as a guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Klumb. Mrs. Klumb was formerly Miss Lois Winslow.

Miss Theresa Haughness, a nurse in the Los Angeles hospital, is visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Haughness, 815 North Birch street.

Little Miss Marjorie Anne Fletcher, five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Josephine Fletcher, 438 South Sycamore street, who was so painfully injured in a recent automobile accident, is making a gratifying recovery, although wounds on her face required many stitches and careful hospital treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baker, 1112 French street, have returned from a 1500-mile automobile tour of California and Nevada upon which they were accompanied by their son and grandson of Hollywood. The trip took them as far north as Carson City, thence to Lake Tahoe, Donner Lake, Sacramento and San Francisco. One of the interesting features was a stay of several days at Lake George in the High Sierras at an altitude of 9200 feet.

Family Reunion Held
As Compliment To Summer Visitor

Complimentary to Mrs. Lydia Willing of Indianapolis, Iowa, a summer visitor in the Southland, was a pleasant family reunion held recently in the home of Mrs. Willing's sister-in-law, Mrs. Grace Wilsey, 523 South Garnsey street.

Guests gathered from various nearby cities to greet the eastern visitor, who is dividing her time between the home of her Santa Ana sister-in-law, and that of her daughter, Mrs. Eileen Allen of Whittier. A brief luncheon was served and the afternoon given over to renewal of old friendships and merry family reminiscences.

In the party in addition to the honor guest, Mrs. Willing, were Mrs. Grace Wilsey, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hofer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilsey, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilsey and children, Jessie, Frank and Maxine; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilsey and daughter Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wilsey and children, Audrey and Raymond, and Frank Wilsey, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Eileen Allen and son Jerry, Whittier; Mrs. Mary Wilsey and Miss Lena Wilsey, El Modena; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kirk and son "Buster"; Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wilsey and daughter Rose, Elsinore, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Wilsey and son Buddy of Yorba Linda.

Club Members Meet in Sequestered Garden
For Gay Affair

Continuing a series of informal summer sessions, Quill Pen club members Tuesday night were tendered the hospitality of Mrs. Clarence M. McClintock's delightful Spanish home at Fairview, a hospitality that included a garden supper served amidst unusually interesting surroundings.

For the McClintocks, in building the big rambling house and landscaping the grounds, were careful to preserve the fine old pepper trees, whose low-drooping branches formed a green roof over the walled garden designed for just such friendly affairs as the recent supper.

Blazing logs in the wide fireplace, sent their warmth and cheerful glow over the scene, as the guests enjoyed the fried rabbit and its accompanying dishes, so deftly served by Miss Maurine McClintock, young daughter of the home. The garden motif was uppermost in details of table arrangement and serving, from the flat tray of little yellow tomatoes centering the green-spread tables, to the quaintly decorated flower pots in which home-made ice cream was served, each boasting a glowing hibiscus bud.

Miss Dorothy Garstang had her "baptism by fire" as a new member of the group, emerging with well deserved praise for her sparkling little story which had not yet been titled. One of the members read a clever bit of verse, "Wall Street", which Mrs. Harry M. Smith had had published in a recent issue of "Pathfinder", and Mrs. Smith also read a tale reminiscent of early history of Quill Pen club, which she called "Quill Pen Riders' Hobbies". Mrs. J. U. Viaw completed the program with an essay inspired by the famous pepper trees at her home in Orange.

Club members will resume their more formal programs with the first autumn meeting with Mrs. N. E. Wells and Miss Jeanette Wells as hostesses in their home, 924 Halliday street, on Tuesday night, September 5.

Present Tuesday night were the hostess, Mrs. McClintock, Mrs. S. B. Marshall, Miss Verna Wells, Mrs. Harry M. Smith, Mrs. Marshall Harris, Mrs. J. U. Viaw, Mrs. Lella Wilson, Mrs. N. E. Wells, Mrs. Maude Goff, Mrs. Blanche Brown, Mrs. Frank Was, Mrs. Neal Stanley, Miss Dorothy Garstang, Mrs. Roy Winchester, Mrs. J. D. Campbell, club president, and Mrs. Emmett Elliott.

Boot and Spur Chosen
As Name of New Riding Club

"Boot and Spur" is the appropriate name chosen by a group of Santa Ana young women for the riding club which they organized under the direction of George Roehm of Parkmouth Riding academy, at a meeting held Monday night in the Roehm home at Irvine park.

A feature of the meeting was the sunset ride over the hill and canyon roads of the park followed by a return to the training field where flood lights were turned on in readiness for drills, games and races. This lesson interval was followed in turn by a business meeting in the Roehm home when Miss Mildred Kinney was elected president; Miss Juanita Fowler, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Delphina Lopez, press chairman.

Mrs. Roehm had planned a pleasant feature in the serving of pie and coffee to the club members present, the Misses Mildred Kinney, Juanita Fowler, and Alice Koessel of Orange; Delphina Lopez, Lillie Forsberg, Marie LaBrucherie, Farel Mulligan, Vivian Van Norman and Mrs. Fabiola Ortiz of Santa Ana.

Santa Anans Continue
Comings and Goings
At Forest Home

Items regarding the activities of Santa Ana cabin owners and their guests at Forest Home, continue to interest their stay at home friends in this city.

Miss Gracia Frederico is spending her vacation at the J. R. Farwell cabin in the popular mountain resort, J. R. Farwell and son John, have also been up with the family the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Eley have returned to their Santa Ana home after spending an enjoyable vacation at the S. H. Chapman cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Siden and son are spending two weeks in the John Gowen cabin.

Mrs. Fred Rowland and daughter, Miss Barbara Rowland, have returned to their cabin for awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. George Goodwin had as guests in their cottage this past week end, Mr. and Mrs. W. Babs and Miss Nellie Babs, of Riverside, formerly of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Atkinson were guests over the week end of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks who have been in their cabin the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith and family spent the week end in the G. E. Shriver cabin.

Mrs. A. E. Young was a guest at San Geronimo Lodge.

Mrs. Fred J. Miller, Mrs. Agnes Watson, John Buckwalter and Norman Herzog were in the Horner cabin over the week end. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Watson are spending an indefinite time in the cabin.

Mrs. Edith Minter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Leonard; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Maret, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Smith and daughter, Miss Lucile Smith, were in the Leonard cabin last week. Mrs. Francis Roberts, Mrs. Ford Underwood, Miss Helen Harper, and Mrs. Kenneth Lamb were in the Walter Lamb cottage last week.

Travelers Return From North To Celebrate 55th Anniversary

When Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Leonard, 620 North Ross street, returned this week from a vacation motor trip up the coast to Marysville in company with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Leonard of Memory Lane, it was just in time to permit the quiet celebration of their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary.

For on Tuesday, August 22, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard could recall the important step they had taken on the corresponding day in the year 1878. The pretty bride, Miss Lucy Agnes Bradley, exchanged wedding vows with her youthful bridegroom, Nereus H. Leonard, in Rochester, Minn.

The young couple made their home in Minnesota for the ensuing score of years, coming to Santa Ana in 1897, and making this their home ever since.

They have four children, all living within a radius of a mile. Mrs. Edith Minter, Mrs. C. S. Minter, Mrs. C. W. Todd and D. P. Leonard. All are ranchers, their properties almost joining.

The anniversary dinner complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Minter at Flower and La Veta streets, West Orange.

Adding interest to the wedding celebration was the fact that there are four other couples on Ross street who have celebrated this summer in honor of wedding anniversaries ranging from the fiftieth to the seventy-first. These honored couples include in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard of 620 North Ross street, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Briney, 626 North Ross street; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Buxton, 630 North Ross street; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wild, 636 North Ross street, and Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Travis, 321 North Ross street.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis boast the longest span of years spent together, having been wedded on August 11, 1862. They celebrated this year with a reception at which scores of friends were greeted.

The Third Guessing Game
Going to Honolulu

At least two people should know the secret of this game, and that is—

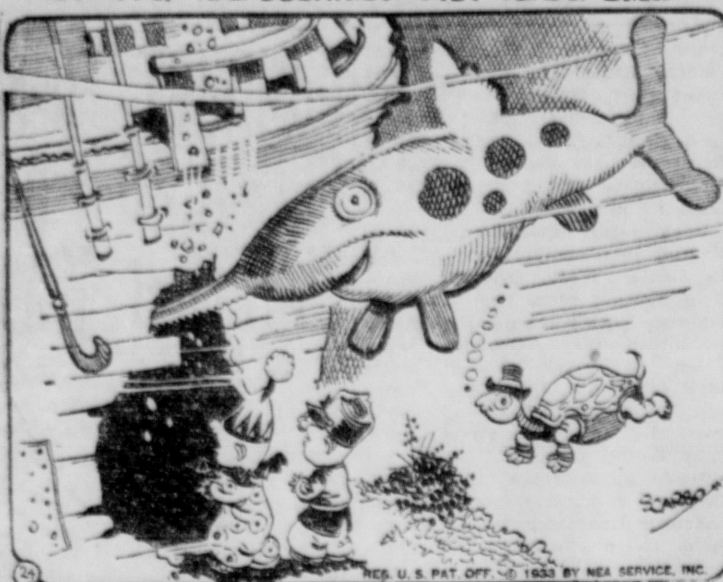

No. 1 take two initials of his name (for example M. H.) and says "I'm taking macaroni and ham to Honolulu."

No. 2, who is in the know, and running the game, says, "correct, you may sit down (at the start everyone is standing or sitting cross-legged on the floor and only the right answer permits the use of a chair). Then the next person is asked what he is taking to Honolulu with him, and time after time he gives the wrong answer and has to stand, as the case may be. Occasionally, the uninitiated get wise and get the right answer and from there on, it's a merry bedlam, each one striving to fit their initials to the craziest possible things and further confuse those whose wits are not so nimble.

A delightful summer evening supper preceding the playing of guessing games is one in which you serve fried chicken and waffles, the waffles cooked at the table on two irons, one of which you own, and the other you borrow. The salad is melon balls and thin slices of ripe peach, with creamy mayonnaise. The dessert home-made

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The Tinymites, of course, were scared, all wondering how Duncy saved when he was pulled out of the sea. Then Shrimpy said, "Don't fret."

"All wait right here, and I'll be glad to see if I can find the lad. I'll swim right up and locate him right on the shore, I'll bet."

He started off with all his might but just then Duncy came in sight. "Well, well," exclaimed kind Shrimpy. "Tell us, lad, about your trip."

"We're curious as we can be. Who hauled you up out of the sea?" "I'll tell you," Duncy said, "if you will help me search a ship."

"It's one that was wrecked years ago. The man I met just told me

so. You see, he was the diver whom I rescued from the squid. "Within the ship there is a chest. I told him I would do my best to find it. There is lots of gold beneath the old chest lid."

"The ship is right behind you, son. Come on, it will be lots of fun," said Shrimpy. Then they searched the ship and shortly found the chest.

"I'll call a swordfish," Shrimpy cried. "He'll help us to walk right inside. I'll tell him where I want a hole cut. Then he'll do the rest."

The swordfish shortly came in sight and went to work with all his might. "Say, he's a dandy carpenter," the bunch heard Windy shout.

"Of course he is," said Shrimpy. "He will do most anything for me. You Tinymites move all of the bits of wood as they fall out."

"Sure! We will do our bit," said one. "I guess the fish soon will be done. Gee, he's kept at it constantly without a single rest."

The hole grew larger, slow but sure, and shortly Shrimpy shouted, "You're all finished. Mister Swordfish. Now we'll get the treasure chest."

(Another fish helps get the chest out in the next story.)

HOLD STEAK BAKE
SMELTZER, Aug. 24.—A party for Miss Doris Moore observing her birthday anniversary was given at Irvine park this week, with a group of her young friends as guests. Her mother, Mrs. E. Ray Moore, and Mrs. Walter Peters were chaperones.

A steak bake was held and those present besides Miss Moore were Miss Marguerite Peters, Miss Leona Peters, Miss Wilma Price, Miss Frances Bergey, Miss Illame Hensley, Harlan Moore, Donald Moore, Donlee Wheeler, John Phillips and George Farmer.

NEW WELL FOR BEACH SCHOOL ON PRODUCTION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 24.—The Huntington Beach Union High school board has completed a water well on the school property, providing an adequate supply for all the needs of the high school.

The well is 267 feet deep and the water comes to within 65 feet of the top. A pumping test of 250 gallons a minute only lowered the well 30 feet. The pumping plant will handle 250,000 gallons a day. The school uses about 70,000 gallons a day at a cost of $200 a month. It will cost $50 a month to operate the well, thus effecting a saving of $150 a month.

Water is pumped to a 10,000-gallon tank to afford a gravity flow. The school board has asked for an O. K. on the water supply from the county health department and will hook the well up for use at once. The water test shows the well to be producing the purest water ever discovered here.

The well is now being pumped to the football field to insure freedom from sand when it is turned into the water lines and drinking fountains and plunges.

The well was drilled at the suggestion of Willis Warner, president of the board.

MEMBERS OF CLUB GUESTS AT PARTY

GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Ray Reafsnider, assisted by Mrs. P. S. Virgin, entertained members of the social section of the Woman's Civic club with a card party at her home on East Acacia street Tuesday afternoon. Seven tables were arranged for bridge. At the close of the games first prize was awarded to Mrs. Clair Head, second prize went to Mrs. A. F. Kearns and Mrs. S. E. Bartlett was console.

Beautiful bouquets of mixed flowers were arranged about the home. At the refreshment hour a pale green color scheme was carried out in the table decorations. Pie a la mode and coffee were served.

LAGUNA BEACH MAYOR TO HEAD NRA CAMPAIGN

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 24.—Mayor Frank B. Champion yesterday as administrator-major of the NRA forces in Laguna Beach at a luncheon meeting of citizens at the White House cafe gathered by Capt. George A. Portus, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

The following captains were appointed to assist him in putting over a drive to get the consumer's blue eagle insignia in the window of every house in the city: Mrs. Vonna Owings Webb, president of the Woman's club; Mrs. Ada E. Purpus, prominent club woman and civic worker; Mrs. Foster Elliott, noted widely as a club and civic worker; Dr. D. R. Hoffman, president of the chamber of commerce; Dr. Vincent P. Carroll, president of the Rotary club; Dr. Thomas Spencer Miller, internationally known engineer and head of the Coast Council of beautification.

A meeting to be held within a few days of 10 women and 10 men lieutenants will be appointed by Mayor Champion and his aides to conduct the city-wide canvass. With the consent of George Raymer of Santa Ana, one of the administrator generals in the county, who addressed the meeting and made the appointment, the actual drive will be deferred until after Labor day. Each householder will be asked to sign a card pledging the consumer to trade only with merchants displaying the blue eagle.

Postmaster Brayton S. Norton called yesterday's meeting to order and introduced Raymer. "This is a warfare against depression," declared Raymer in opening. "The NRA plan is based on a military setup. I am one of 1556 men throughout the country appointed directly by Gen. Hugh Johnson in Washington and he has passed on to us the power to appoint others. The names of those appointed today will be telegraphed to Washington tonight and will receive documentary appointments. General Johnson wants it understood that while the government means business nothing is going to be done to harm anybody. I want the administrator in this city to realize that their situation locally is different from other communities and that the codes to be drawn up for merchants will take into consideration the local conditions. I received from Washington yesterday word that cities and communities dependent upon the tourist trade would be governed by different codes than those that have a year round business. Whatever you do here will be all right with the government if all the merchants in a certain line come to an agreement on its terms and if they will comply in general with the terms of the national code."

Raymer said he had received a bulletin from Washington that a group of men have put up $100,000 for the rehabilitation of industrial plants where hand labor is used and where the industries have been unable to refinance through the regular banking channels. Further money probably will be coming for this purpose from the Reconstruction Finance corporation if it can be shown that the loans will put men and women back to work, but not for the purchase of machines that will take the place of many employees, he said.

Tustin Boys In Party At Anaheim

TUSTIN, Aug. 24.—In observance of the 12th birthday anniversary of her son, Louis A. Riehl Jr., was a plunge party at which Mrs. Louis A. Riehl entertained a group of boys Tuesday afternoon at Anaheim City park.

Games were played and refreshments of home made ice cream, cookies and angel food cake were served by Mrs. Riehl, who was assisted by Mrs. Carl Becker.

Those sharing the merry celebration with Louis Jr. were Homer Hannaford, Billy Leinberger, Phil Brooks, Jay Harbour, Paul Kimball, Jack Becker, Jimmy Fultz, of Tustin, and Billy Dick and Bobby Riehl, of Orange.

Present were the honoree, Miss Preston; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Preston, and sister, Miss Ena Preston; Mrs. J. W. McIntosh, Miss Nellie McIntosh, John and Frederick McIntosh, of this place; Eber Flava, choir director and pianist; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perry, Stewart Price, Mrs. Luther A. Arthur, Mrs. Buchanan, Mrs. Brewster, Mrs. Rowley, Edna Carter, Robert Holmington and Ralph Hawes.

Two Initiated By Buena Park O. E. S.

BUENA PARK, Aug. 24.—Two new members were initiated at the meeting of the Order of the Eastern star chapter in the Masonic hall this week. The new members are Mrs. Willie Ann Allen and Mrs. Jane Bloese. A social evening was enjoyed following the initiation.

Mrs. Houts, worthy matron of Anaheim chapter, and Mrs. Florence Thompson gave voice numbers, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Winters at the piano. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruth Eberhart, Mrs. Ellen Nelson, Mrs. Georgena Boyd, Miss Ruth Gunby and Mrs. Ethel Shear.

Bridal Couple In Buena Park Visit

BUENA PARK, Aug. 24.—Sonny Crissmann and his bride, the former Miss Edith Edwards, of Fort Worth, Tex., are visiting with Mr. Crissmann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crissmann, at their home on Western avenue. The wedding ceremony took place in Atwater, in Northern California, last week. The young couple will make their home in Northern California.

HOLD CARD PARTY

OCEANVIEW, Aug. 24.—With Mrs. Nilander and Mrs. Burrisson as co-hostesses, the Unemployed association of Oceanview held a card party at the commissary building this week. Six tables of cards were played and orange sherbet and cookies were served during the social hour. Prize winners at cards included Mrs. W. R. Mosley, first for women and Mrs. W. H. Boyle, second; Dell Radio, first for men and Mr. Franklin, second.

L. B. Fire Call Costs Man 5 Cents, City $40

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 24.—It cost an excited motorist a nickel to turn in a fire alarm from a pay station last night and it cost the city $40 for the fire company to make a run a mile and a half up Laguna canyon and learn that Jake Switzer, trash collector, had performed his duty in lighting the city dump pile. And it nearly cost the life of Acting Fire Chief Frank McLaughlin, who missed by inches a car that was driven out of Park avenue as he turned into Forest avenue from the boulevard on his way to answer the alarm.

CUT LIMA BEANS IN SMELTZER AREA

SMELTZER, Aug. 24.—Several local lima bean ranchers have opened the harvest with the cutting of several fields of the crops planted early in the spring. Twenty-five acres of David Holcslaw's fields, 200 acres of which were planted in April have been completed and cutting is going forward in the Vernon Hill fields and in the M. J. P. Hill and Maurice Price fields.

TEACHERS GET LOWER SALARY

ANAHEIM, Aug. 24.—Effective a salary of eight per cent over last year's teachers' contracts, with salary specifications, were sent out from the Anaheim Union High school office this morning following their approval last night at the meeting of the board of trustees.

Temporary contracts were given the 43 members of the faculty last June, but salaries were left blank in the 1933-34 budget was approved by Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Jerry were dinner hosts early this week in their home, 1334 South Parton street, complimenting P. J. McDonald of Omaha, Neb., just prior to his departure for home after an enjoyable visit with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McDonald of 605 East Washington avenue.

Mrs. Jerry made her table most attractive with flowers and soft lights, and served a delicious dinner menu to the honor guest, P. J. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolford and Ben Flanagan, with herself and the host to complete the friendly party.

Mr. George Franzen of Orange opened her pleasant home to Memorial of Orange County Salon, Eight of Forty, for their August meeting held early this week, when matters of much interest were discussed.

Committee reports included a summary of the recent state convention in Pasadena, where Mrs. Charles J. Leimer, presiding chapeau, was elected to the office of first demi-chapeau, Department of California. Mrs. George Franzen was appointed musician by Mrs. Bertha Shiel, chapeau department.

While the local Salon received further recognition by the appointment of Mrs. Louis Benningdorf of Huntington Beach as a member of the executive committee.

Plans were made for the annual installation of officers and Miss Gladys Young was appointed as chairman of the committee on arrangements. Other plans included those for a beach party to be held in the near future.

Completing the interesting meeting, Mrs. Franzen served refreshments to her guests who were Mesdames Charles J. Leimer, Fred K. Halber, John Stanton, Harold Rasmussen, J. C. Payne, Homer Mellott, Louis Benningdorf, William Curnutt, Grover Fultz and Miss Gladys Young.

ANAHEIM, Aug. 24.—Much interest is being shown among the many friends of Mrs. Olive Lee Shoemaker in the original play that she has written and that will be produced sometime during November or December.

Mrs. Shoemaker is now completing the many lyrics that the playlet calls for and is perfecting the lines for the dramatic work.

There will be approximately 25 members in the cast, most of them being members of her musical studio.

Eteri Members Greet Pomona Guests

With Miss Evelyn Griest welcoming Eteri club members to her home in Santa Ana Gardens, the club at its Monday night meeting, welcomed several members of Pomona Eteri club as guests of honor.

The occasion was a buffet supper served to the accompaniment of flowers and a pleasant hospitality. Miss Lucille Allen, local club president, conducted a short business meeting after which the Pomona guests took charge of program duties under the direction of Miss Evelyn Griest, serving during the vacation absence of the Pomona leader, Miss Hunter.

Group singing, a series of short talks and two vocal solos provided an entertaining program. The meeting of the club will be a covered dish supper to be held at Bessan hall, 407 Fruit street, on Tuesday evening, September 5, at 5:45 o'clock. Any girl interested in activities of the Eteri club, will be assured of a cordial welcome if she wishes to join the members for supper on this date.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Trading fell off sharply on the stock market today and prices were firm. The main list was up fractions to a point. Isolated individual issues advanced as much as 15 points.

Homestake Minings, highest price active stock on the board, made maximum advance and other gold mining issues followed.

Other issues to make wide gains included Allied Chemical, which advanced 1/2 point for the day sold at 13 1/2, up 1/2 and a new high for the year. U. S. Smelting made a new high for 1933 at 8 1/2, up 1/2 and 1/2.

U. S. Steel, 3 1/2, up 1/2, and Freeport Texas 6 1/2, up 1/2, preferred at 13 1/2 up 1/2. Gains of more than 1 point in the late afternoon were recorded in American Can, Atchafalpa, Union Pacific and J. I. Case.

Atchafalpa, Union Pacific and J. I. Case. A feature of the day was firmness in the utilities which recently had been under the hammer in various parts of the country. It was said a large short interest had been taken in the group, part of which was covered today. At one time Consolidated Gas was up 2 points at 4 1/2.

Class Picnic
Delta Alpha class members of First Methodist Sunday school held their monthly meeting on Monday evening. Fifteen members met at Birch park with well filled baskets and enjoyed a varied and all day to the home of Mrs. Lola Stanley and Miss Alta McGinnis, 1125 Orange avenue, where after a pleasant social time, the president, Miss Irma DeBarr, conducted the business meeting during which plans were discussed for social service work for the coming year.

Those present were Mrs. McGinnis and daughters, and Irma DeBarr, Alma Steward, Esther Hennickson, Elizabeth and Laura Sherman, Minnie Wild, Miss Holway, Edna and Verna Knoll, Olive and Bertha Gray, Clara Craig, Clara Paddock, Harriet Doolittle, Clara Barnes, and Thelma Glascock of Redlands, who came to bring greetings from her mother, Mrs. Ina Glascock, a former member of the class.

Homesteaders Lodge
Following the formal business meeting of the Homesteaders late last week in their hall, members enjoyed the entertainment features planned by James Ryan, opening with western songs by Maynard Zerlott and Richard Sterling.

A guessing contest of amusing features followed, with prizes awarded both for high score and low. Refreshments of cookies and orange punch were served, and the remainder of the evening devoted to dancing.

Homesteaders are anticipating a covered dish dinner and a party which they will share Thursday evening in Anaheim park. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock.

Job's Daughters
Meeting in Masonic temple Tuesday evening under the leadership of the newly elected queen, Miss Ruth Baker, Santa Ana Bethel Job's Daughters made arrangements for the installation program and party to be held in two weeks.

Succeeding the business interval was a merry time, party shared by a group of members and guests including the Misses Ruth

OLD AGE PENSION

Nine states have added old age pension laws to their statutes since the first of the year. In no states have previous pension laws been repealed. The amount paid as old age benefit during 1932 was 13 times the total for 1930, and the payments made last year were 30 per cent greater than those made in 1931.

Even so, the United States, as a whole, is the most backward in the treatment of its aged poor of any white nation on the globe. In the nations of northern Europe, whether it be Holland, England, France, Germany, Belgium, Switzerland or any of the Scandinavian countries, or Russia, the duty toward the aged poor is that of the government; just as amongst the better of early American Indian tribes the duty of looking after the poor and the aged was that of the chief.

In France the right to receive a pension is coupled with an old-age insurance system, so that the person receiving the pension receives it because he is old rather than because he is poor. In that war-ridden country, with millions of people impoverished because of the change in the value of the franc, just as people are now being pauperized in these United States because of the change in the value of the dollar, in France at least the aged poor, and those that are just old, can proudly walk the streets secure in their income, with the right to retain their household furnishings, and their pets, most often allowed the pleasure of retaining their own home, and are not placed in institutions, unless unable to look after themselves.

In almost two-thirds of the United States, the aged poor are segregated and placed in that queer American institution known as the "poor farm." Amongst its members will be found the former rich, the talented poor, the hard-working and unwise investor, half-wits, bums, drunkards, with here and there an old habitual criminal now too old to ply his trade. All are protected against infectious diseases by the liberal use of creosote and other disinfectants, the smell of which serves to distinguish them from other human habitations.

Small wonder that sickness, utter helplessness and slow starvation alone can drive the respectable poor into the refuge provided by a people who boast of the greatest natural resources in the world, and who like to think of themselves as the best educated on the globe.

Depression, at least, is teaching us that poverty and riches are largely controlled by chance. When in 1928 Julius Rosenwald made the statement that fortunes are largely due to lucky opportunity the world was inclined to admire his modesty; today it recognizes its truthfulness.

Millions of people are living in fear of poverty. Urged to spend in order to recreate prosperity, they hesitate to do so, because they may need their money some other day. During the last three years the industrial world has gradually come to a standstill because the average man no longer buys or uses all that he is capable of enjoying. Assured of a respectable old age, through the operation of an old age pension or insurance system, who can say but what the fear of poverty will so far desert the millions that they will again buy what they can? In any case, each generation has a duty toward its aged, and those who have been created through the recent destruction of values are entitled to a better and less humiliating old age than has been provided for those who have gone before. They, too, deserved better.

MR. SMITH A CHANGED MAN

The attempt, by those who are opposed to the NRA, to slyly criticize the administration's program and undermine it in public faith, will deceive but few. The quoting of former Governor Alfred E. Smith on the President's program does not mean at all that they are quoting a friend of it.

We cannot forget that during the campaign Mr. Smith referred to some of the promises that Franklin D. Roosevelt was making as "demagoguery." And, as a matter of fact, he is in the very act now of carrying out those promises. We were inclined to believe that they were the words of a demagogue, and we were helped in that belief by Alfred E. Smith's criticism.

But we are now inclined to see that there is something else beside the public good that affects Mr. Smith in his criticism of the administration. As we have pointed out before, Mr. Smith has quite vitally changed in his relationship—he is now at the head of a gigantic financial corporation,—as well as the fact that he was beaten for the nomination by Mr. Roosevelt, and that there was a very keen rivalry, not to say antagonism, developed in New York State in New York's Democracy. Mr. Smith has really not "buried the hatchet," or if he has, he remembers distinctly where it was buried, so that on occasions he can slyly use it, as he is doing in this case.

It is possible that the NRA may fail, at least as at present programmed. But the only chance it has of succeeding, we know, is to sustain the President in his program, for no plan will succeed without the people behind it. And then should it fail, it has failed because of its own inherent weakness, and not because of the sabotage of its enemies. And from an experimental point of view we will know that that route is not the one, and another will be taken. The President himself will continue to be the leader.

Certain it is that the general plan of decreased hours and increasing employment, in other words, increasing the total amount that goes to the consuming army, with which they can buy goods, must be on the right track of the solution of this problem. It may be that there will not be enough employment. It may be there will not be enough money paid this consuming army for the total amount of production, or the necessary amount of production to be used.

Then it must be that more drastic action must be taken. But certainly we should try and get along with the less drastic, rather than make it fail at the beginning, and have the more drastic forced upon the country. We are rather inclined to believe that if Mr. Smith had been ushered into the Presidency from the Governorship of New York, and with the same state of mind in which he was then, and confronted with the conditions that confront the President, he would be more radical than the President is today.

But "Al" has gone through a metamorphosis. He pays more in rent alone today than he received as a total income in the days just before his governorship. And he evidences that the criticism and the opposition to the President's work is more than partisanship. It comes from the same type of people, whether Republican or Democrat. We regret it the more coming from Mr. Smith.

From among the common people he had no rival for the position of the "Great Commoner." But he seems to have surrendered his birthright for what may prove to be a mess of pottage.

"UNIVERSITY OF EXILE" TO OPEN

Plans for the opening of the "University of Exile" have advanced so far that it is expected that it will open October first. The faculty will be composed of German professors whom the Nazi have driven from their posts in German universities. Dr. Alvin Johnson of the New School for Social Research recently arrived in New York after three weeks spent in London perfecting arrangements. Fourteen of the German scholars are to be brought to the United States. The first three to sail are Emil Lederer of the University of Berlin, Hermann Kantorowicz of Hamburg and Arthur Feiler of Konigsberg. The other eleven are at the present time refugees in Great Britain, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia and Austria. Support for the undertaking has been procured through the efforts of Governor Cross of Connecticut, Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, and Dr. John Dewey, among others.

A further portion of Dr. Johnson's announcement is that the "University of Exile" will function as a center of scholarship, instruction and research and not as a point of dissemination of anti-Nazi propaganda.

Almost eight hundred men have been ousted from their posts in German universities during the period of the Nazi revolution. Two thirds of this number are professors, the rest are instructors or research assistants. "There are no charges against their character nor criticism of their scholarship," says Dr. Johnson. "The official explanation is that they are Jews or Marxists. By 'Jew' is meant any one who has as much as one-quarter 'Jewish blood.' . . . by 'Marxist' is meant any one who voted for Social Democratic candidates for offices, or who accepts the view held by Marx but also by most other competent historians that the forms of political and social life are heavily influenced by the economic conditions of the times."

The "University of Exile" is a means of taking advantage of an opportunity afforded by a prime mistake of the Nazi. Professor Lederer is a widely known scholar, an authority in sociology. France has had the enviable reputation of being a haven of refuge for people driven from their native lands because of the beliefs and philosophies they hold. At times the United States has appeared to hold a reputation the very antithesis of that of France in this respect. The opportunity and haven offered the ousted German professors in this country will do much to alleviate this unfortunate reputation which has rested heavily upon the shoulders of many Americans.

The Cost of Success

A year ago today Prof. Auguste Piccard climbed up from Europe into the sky 53,152.8 feet, the highest that man has ever risen above earth.

The unknown, where man never yet has been, does not yield at the mere asking. It is possible to approach it en fete, but getting there is a sterner business. The unknown cannot be wooed with a brass band. It must be conquered. It sets a price on itself.

If the reason for this be plain, it is because the inaccessible is not merely the remotest of places in the sky or on the earth. It is more. It is a limit of human understanding. The mysterious is a boundary which thought dislikes to give up, which defends itself by resisting the adventurer.

Perhaps this is what balked the recent American attempt to reach the stratosphere—that lofty aerial zone of deep violet, where all storms are left behind. The best balloon, the lightest car, the finest equipment that generous people could supply had been brought together. Yet a little valve refused to work.

On his first trial Prof. Auguste Piccard's balloon was visited by a sudden wind and he had to deflate it on the spot to avoid an accident in the takeoff. The world laughed at the professor with the balloon who had been unable even to start. The second time, he was almost unable to play a nearly fatal hole in his airtight car. Then the same valve that gave the Americans trouble failed to operate.

His clever heating device also failed. The side of his gondola, which he had painted black to absorb the sun's rays and warm the car, declined to revolve. It insisted on keeping its face toward the sun and sucked in heat like a boy's burning glass. Without it, it was 60-odd degrees below zero, within from 95 to 104 degrees above.

Professor Piccard found that the stratosphere had a bill against him. It ran thus: Debtor—ridicule, danger, desperate effort, suspense. Then a third time he tried, and the stratosphere wrote simply: Creditor—success.

Pearly in achieving the north pole passed through failures, hardships, perils, and emerged at last to find an impostor claiming his honors. The south pole made its own demands for silent chastening endeavor.

That which has been hid from men for all the ages apparently calls for a humbling and refining of thought before it can be attained.

If this is one of the lessons which come from exploring the unknown, then a new trial for the stratosphere from the Century of Progress exposition has great encouragement.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

HOPE NEVER DIES

You may be convinced that your calling
Is one that you never can master,
And that pegging away
Will but bring you some day
To utter and shameful disaster.
Then of course you will try a new method
Of earning the old bread and butter,
But you'll not see the day
When you'll sit down and say:
"I never shall manage that putter."

You may lose all your early ambition
To set the old planet ablaze;
You may make up your mind
To be wholly resigned
To lean and unprosperous days.
You may think that your chances hereafter
Are not worth the coin called a stiver,
But you'll never admit
That you have grown so unfit
That you can't learn to handle a driver.

Success may appear but a vision—
In every direction but one—
You may think you've lost out
Past a shadow of doubt—
That ambition is over and done.
But still you will plod round a golf course
Through wearisome day after day,
Convinced in your heart
That you'll master the art,
And teach Bobbie Jones how to play.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

SCAB LEADERSHIP

One of my early memories of labor troubles is that of a battle of brickbats between striking street car men and the men who had taken the place of the strikers.

It was the first time I had heard the word scab applied to a workman who refused to play the game with the organized group.

To me one of the most constructive things in the Roosevelt program is the carelessness with which the President, through his codes and other devices, is seeking to rid the nation of scab industries.

There is no place in the Roosevelt vision of the economic future for the scab industry—the industry that refuses to play the game with the organized enlightenment of a whole field of industry.

One of the paradoxical things about American industry as a whole has been that the scab industries have set definite limits to the lengths to which enlightened leadership could go in industry.

A few outstanding industries cannot pull the whole nation along to a high wage and short hour program with the wholesome widening of the spread of the national income that such a program means, if they are surrounded by industries that take advantage of the situation and work their men longer at lower pay.

It has been my good fortune to know many of the outstanding leaders of American business, industry and finance.

I have often been impressed with the wide gap between the liberalism of their personal outlook on industrial policy and their actual practice as leaders in their own institutions.

For a while I thought it must be inconsistency or a failure to live up to their own convictions.

As the years have passed I have come to realize that they have been held in check by what may properly be called the scab leadership around them.

Any blanket move such as the Blue Eagle is bound to work hardships here and there but, by and large, the nation stands to gain from any more that lifts all industry to the level of the best industrial policy to level of best leadership can work out.

FOR YEARS

I get many letters that say, "I have tried for years to break my child of the habit of sucking his thumb, or biting his nails, or licking his lips. What can I do?"

If the habit has gone on for years there is very little you can do but preserve your soul in patience and wait for the child to grow to the place where he wills of his own accord, to stop the unpleasant habit. Most children drop most of the unpleasant habits in the fulness of time.

Usually when a boy or girl reaches adolescence personal pride is strong enough to make them want to stop the childish habits that so annoy their parents. Up to that time the child got pleasure out of sucking his thumb or biting his nails or twisting his forelock. Now he has become conscious of his appearance in the eyes of other people and he longs with all his heart to stop. And he does.

But that is cold comfort for the mother who wants her child to stop right now. She hates to see her pretty daughter standing in a daze, sucking her thumb. She is heartily ashamed of the appearance of her boy's finger nails. All I have ever found that helps is to hand the offending child a job, something to do that occupies his hands and his mind, and interrupt for the time being the unhappy habit.

There is no use in bitter aloes on the "finger ends, or pepper, or slaps. I cannot feel that it is wise to put restraint on hands or arms. Talking does little good. A redirection of thought and an occupation requiring activity, helps most of all to tide the children over to the place where their wish to grow up is stronger than their wish to comfort themselves in these strange ways.

We have found that polishing finger nails deters a child from biting them. The higher the gloss the more uncomfortable the biting becomes. Of course in the time the polish is licked off, but there is a checking of the habit and by and by it disappears.

The best cure for all these habits is prevention. They begin in the cradle. The baby puts his thumb into his mouth and likes it. If you very gently remove the thumb every time, stay by to see that it stays out, that will go a long way toward curing the thing at the start. If the child is old enough to slip something in his hand which he will clutch, and that will keep his thumb where it belongs.

Children, I believe, cultivate these habits. They are not instinctive. If we are on guard early, early enough to check them at the start, we save a lot of trouble in the years to come. It is a hardship to have to keep saying, or thinking, "Take your finger out of your mouth." "Stop twining your foot about your ankle." "Let your hair alone." We can save ourselves all that if we begin on time. We can save ourselves nothing if we don't.

These habits do little real harm to the child. They are unpleasant and wasteful of precious energy. They bring on nagging and that is as serious as the habit itself in its results on the child. Better start early and make a job of eradicating each unpleasant habit as it is born.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
